GUIDED PATHWAYS ESSENTIAL PRACTICES: SCALE OF ADOPTION SELF-ASSESSMENT
CALIFORNIA COMMUNITY COLLEGES' ASSESSMENT OF PROGRESS IN THE IMPLEMENTING OF GUIDED PATHWAYS
Revised February 2019

This tool is designed to help your college assess how far along you are toward adopting essential guided pathways practices at scale. The first part of the Scale of Adoption Assessment (SOAA) includes essential practices examined in CCRC's book, Redesigning America's Community Colleges: A Clearer Path to Student Success by Thomas Bailey, Shanna Smith Jaggars, and Davis Jenkins (Harvard University Press, 2015). We suggest that you convene faculty, staff, and administrators from across areas of your college to discuss the extent to which each essential practice listed in the first column is currently implemented at your college as of spring 2019. In column two, indicate the extent to which the practices have been adopted at your college using the following scale:

Scale of Adoption	Definition
Not occurring	College is currently not following, or planning to follow, this practice
Not systematic	Practice is incomplete, inconsistent, informal, and/or optional
Planning to scale	College is has made plans to implement the practice at scale and has started to put these plans into place
Scaling in progress	Implementation of the practice is in progress for all students
At scale	Practice is implemented at scale—that is, for all students in all programs of study

In column three, describe the progress your college has made toward implementing each practice at scale. For practices that are scaling or at scale, note that we are also asking you to indicate which semester a practice first reached this point. Finally, in column four, indicate the next steps your college plans to take toward implementing the given practice at scale and the college's timeline for implementing these steps. Don't be concerned if your college has made minimal progress implementing any given practice. This assessment will help your college develop and refine a plan for implementing guided pathways at scale at your college. Project partners and the Chancellor's Office will also use this information to follow the system's progress in implementing guided pathways over time.

How Careful Should I Be on My Answers?

In the national project we learned several things:

- Some colleges, particularly new to GP work, overestimated their adoption and work because they did not know the extent of the change
- Some colleges, that were further along, underestimated their work because it seemed like such a huge change
- You should use this to get a good baseline, defined by your work, to scale and evaluate progress going forward
- This is an opportunity to document and communicate

CALIFORNIA DREAMING

Governance Processes for Guided Pathways

- A guided pathways structure that parallels governance. There may be points of intersection, but not necessarily integration. How sustainable is this?
- College personnel report they are working on Guided Pathways, but critical decisions are made “over there”.
- Moving towards integrating guided pathways and adaptation governance to support and advance guided pathways implementation while taking care of “regular business”.

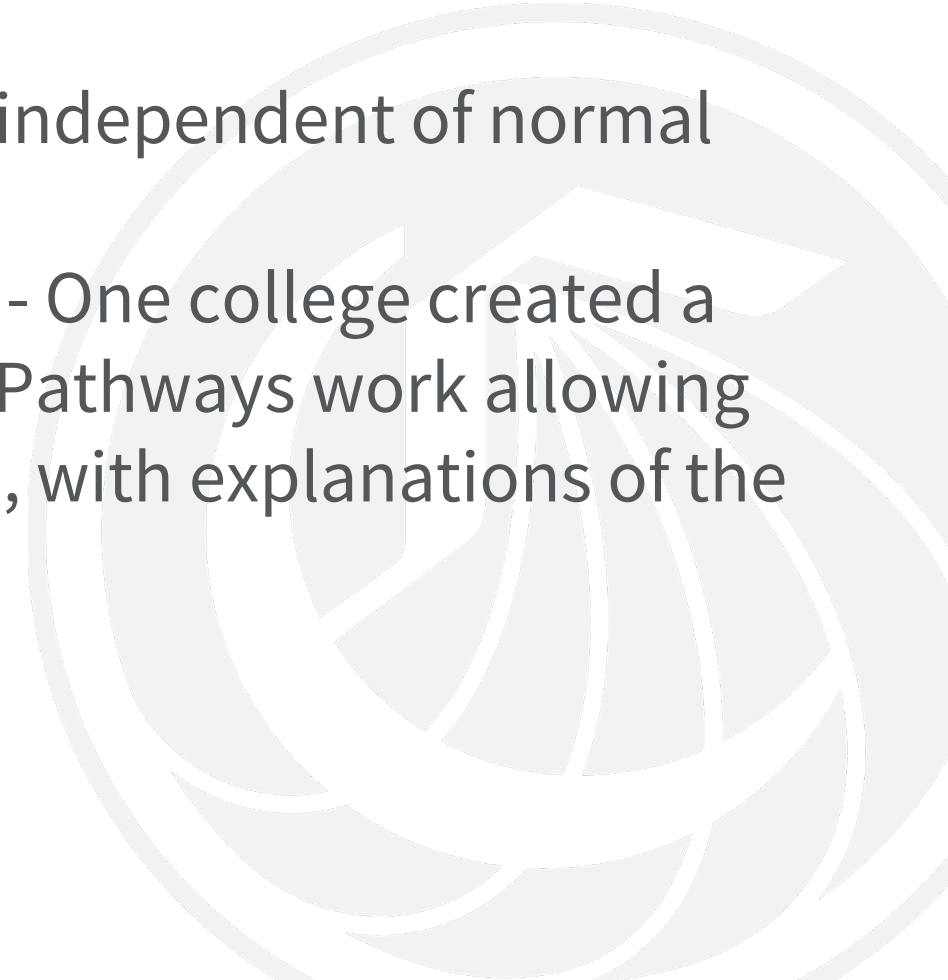

Some Sample Issues to Consider

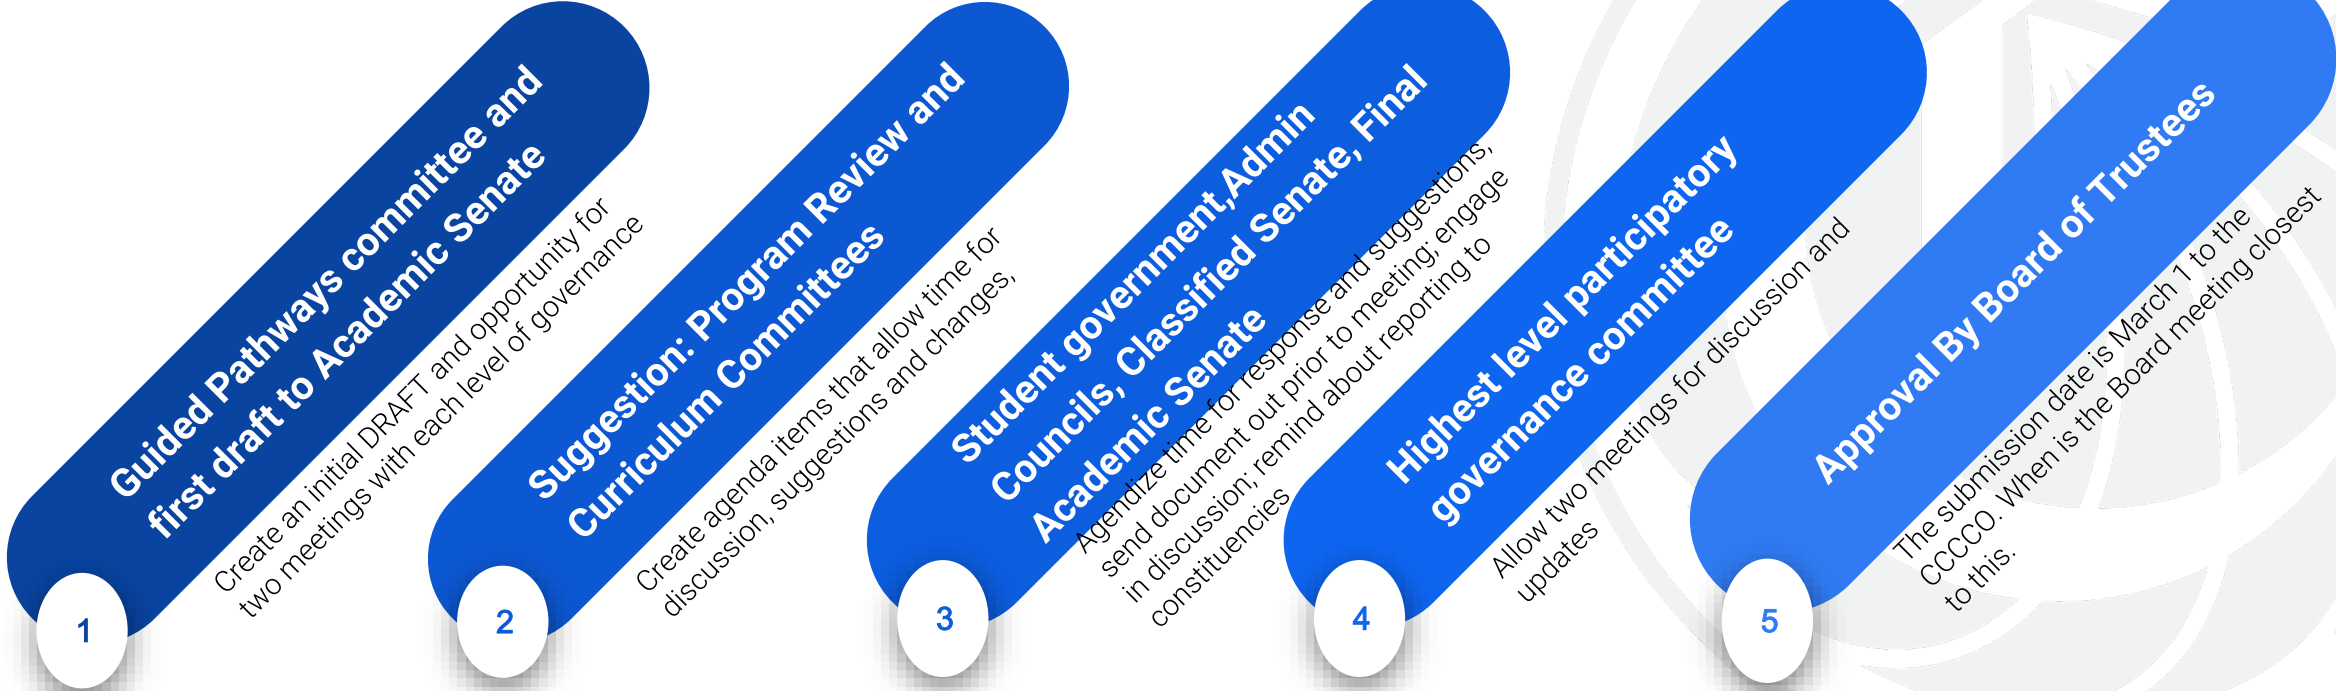

- Some colleges are stuck or parked because they have not designated timelines or final authorities.
 - One college worked diligently to identify meta-majors and program maps only to find that when the final structure was announced, changes had been negotiated, departments moved, etc, beyond the final document.

Some Sample Issues to Consider

- Some GP teams are operating parallel or independent of normal processes
 - Communication and transparency issues - One college created a website that dated and recorded Guided Pathways work allowing people to see numerous iterations, dated, with explanations of the committees adopting the changes

Scheduling the Governance Component

Equity Considerations

Equity Considerations in Area 1:

- Are the college's website and program pages easy to navigate and understand for students and families without prior experience with higher education?
- How could the college ensure that access to and use of this information is equitable for students who have been historically underrepresented and/or underserved in higher education (e.g., racial/ethnic minority students, lower-income students, first-generation students, students with disabilities, indigenous students, formerly incarcerated students, veterans, undocumented students, etc.)?
- How are financial costs, potential debt, and economic benefits of program completion (including paths to program-relevant regional employment, projected earnings, and transfer outcomes) made clear for prospective students? Do program websites clarify differences in earnings potential between related certificates and degrees and across levels of educational attainment?

- What is your Why?
- How do you locally define equity?
- How do you measure equity?

- Equity as a Guiding Principle
- Disaggregation of Data
- Strategic Planning using Equity

Equity Considerations

Equity Considerations in Area 4:

- How is the college ensuring that underrepresented students participate in program-relevant active and experiential learning opportunities?
- As faculty make curricular changes to better align course assignments with program learning outcomes, how does the college support faculty to implement pedagogical changes that better support learning outcomes success for underrepresented students (e.g., culturally responsive teaching)?
- What opportunities exist for faculty or advisors to critically examine their role in advancing equity-minded teaching and advising practices at the college (e.g., critically examining the role of unconscious bias in the classroom or advising that could affect student aspirations for a particular field and/or program selection)?
- Is the college disaggregating program learning outcomes data, program retention and completion data, and other assessment measures by race, income, age, and gender to examine equity gaps? How is this data disseminated and discussed among college staff, with students, and with the outside community?

- Understanding the student journey
- Structural policies and practices
- Implicit bias
- Cultural competency

NOVA GP Module Demonstration

Analyst, CCCCO

Barbara Lezon
Specialist, CCCCO

California
Community
Colleges

Key Points

- NOVA module is almost identical to the Word/PDF version
 - Intent was to change as little as possible, yet add valuable features
- New features/sections include:
 - Ability to indicate support is needed for specific practices/activities
 - Two new questions: Student engagement and course alignment - based on requirements in legislative reporting
 - Success story - share the successes you are experiencing on your campus!
 - Upload prior SOAA document - April 2019 submission (PDF document)

Key Points

- Only one scale metric may be selected per practice
 - If you feel you are “in between” scale metrics, you may explain in the Progress to Date and/or Next Steps fields
- All entries are autosaved, and you do not have to complete the steps/tabs in order
- College President and Academic Senate President are official approvers
 - Sharing drafts with other stakeholders is encouraged!
