EXPECTATIONS

Here are a few of my expectations that will help create an awesome class environment.

- Be respectful to your classmates via the weekly discussions on Canvas
- Be respectful to classmates who have different opinions
- When someone is speaking during class, give them your attention
- Be open to listening to various opinions
- Encourage one another to speak up during class discussions
- When you get assigned to your group, exchange contact information so you have a class buddy to text/email and ask questions
- What are you hoping to get from this class?

Academic dishonesty

In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech in class or in the discussion posts that disrupts the learning environment will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Class participation and Attendance policy

If you miss more than 4 classes your grade will drop by 10%.

In the event of an emergency:

1. Evaluate the impact the emergency has on your activity/operation and take appropriate action.

In an emergency that requires an evacuation of the building anywhere in the District:

- Be aware of all marked exits from your area and building
- Once outside, move to the nearest evacuation point outside your building
- Keep streets and walkways clear for emergency vehicles and personnel

Do not leave campus, unless it has been deemed safe by the campus authorities.

Communication Guidelines

I prefer email as a way of communication; however, my phone number is on the syllabus and if you need to know something and the due date is approaching and you think texting me would be quicker that it totally fine. I won't mind if you text me and have a question. Just consider using email if there is enough time for you to get a response within 24 hours. I will respond to you within 24 hours, however on weekends there is a chance I will have no service and not get back to you until late Sunday or early Monday.

As a reminder there are privacy rights. Including the legal rights of students that prevent information from being disclosed to anyone (including parents/guardians) without the student's prior written consent. So you can feel safe to let me know something going on in your life that will distance yourself from a class assignment or discussion posts. I understand that life can happen, things come up, etc. Just let me know so I can be aware that maybe you will need an extension on an assignment. And I will accommodate you if you let me know before an assignment/quiz is due.

Regular Effective Contact

This learning experience can be enhanced with the more communication you have with each other and with your instructors. I will give you feedback on assignments and reach out to me anytime if you would like to have a further discussion about the grade or material. I am available for online "office hours". Send me an email if you would like to discuss class material over zoom.

If you have a business you are running, wanting to start or in a prototype phase of something great, let me know! I would love to chat business with any aspiring entrepreneur.

Policies - additional

Be active on the discussion posts.

You will lose points if you do not post in the discussion AND a respond to TWO classmates posts each week.

10 points for posting in the Discussion

5 points for TWO reply's

= 20 points for each discussion

I can't express it enough how important it is that each student is active and engaging on the discussion post. The more communication there is between students and the more ideas you spread with each other the better!

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Gender-Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is gender-inclusive and non-sexist to affirm and respect how people describe, express, and experience their gender. Just as sexist language excludes women's experiences, non-gender-inclusive language excludes the experiences of individuals whose identities may not fit the gender binary, and/or who may not identify with the sex they were assigned at birth. Gender-inclusive/non-sexist language acknowledges people of any gender (for example, first year student versus freshman, humankind versus mankind, etc.), affirms non-binary gender identifications, and recognizes the difference between biological sex and gender expression.
