Course Description (as described in course outline): An intermediate level study of 3D modeling and presentation methods used in the design and drafting industry. Students will study the creation and application of wireframe, surface, solid, and parametric CAD models as well as design visualization techniques and rapid prototyping processes.
Student Learning Outcomes (as described in course outline): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Use CAD software to create 3D CAD models using wireframe, surface, solid, and feature-based parametric techniques. 2. Manipulate the 3D coordinate system & 3D viewing systems. 3. Use the CAD software user interface, including customization and file management. 4. Analyze a 3D model in terms of form, function, and mass properties, including interference detection. 5. Develop a 3D model by converting 2D data. 6. Use software processes to create photorealistic renderings of a 3D model. 7. Create dimensioned orthographic drawings from 3D model data. 8. Define various 3D CAD file formats. 9. Create physical prototypes of a design using rapid prototyping. 10. Define terminology associated with the CAD industry and describe the role of design visualization and prototyping in the design process. 11. Choose the proper software tools to meet a client's needs. 12. Prepare a professional portfolio.
