Catalog Description of English 150

A course in the development of college-level reading, writing, and critical thinking skills, emphasizing basic argumentation. Students analyze ideas and structure in assigned readings and compose essays supporting arguable thesis statements. The lab component of the course is scheduled in the Writing Center, where students receive individualized instruction in critical reading, in the conventions of standard written English, and in all stages of the writing process.

Overview

With food as the overarching theme of this course, we will look at the multiple roles food plays in our lives. We will examine food as culture, look at different approaches around the production of food, and examine the ethical and environmental choices we make. During the course of the semester we will analyze a movie, a play, essays, and academic writing. We all eat and make choices as to what we eat, so we can draw on our own knowledge and experiences when using food as a lens through which to analyze our world. Certainly, once we start to think analytically about our own lives we can then, hopefully, apply this analytical lens to everything we observe in the world around us, and perhaps in the process become active and engaged citizens rather than passive consumers.

In this course you will spend the majority of your time either reading or writing, or talking about reading and writing, (both your own, your peers, and assigned texts). You will also collaboratively review and revise your writing.

This class will function in many ways as a workshop, with class meetings often involving peer review of essay drafts and group work analyzing readings. Most classes will start with short in-class writings, and then consist of class discussions, brief lectures and writing. Your writing will be comprised of informal and formal in-class writing (including reading responses), and out of class essay drafting and revising.

As you can see the main focus of this class is for you to become a confident and competent reader and writer, who, at the end of the class is able to produce polished, thesis-driven analytical writing.

Course Requirements

Writing

- 1.5-2 page Educational Autobiography = 3 points
- College Experience Journal = 5 points
- 3-4 page argumentative essay (Fed Up) = 10 points
- 3-4 page argumentative essay (Salmon Is Everything) = 10 points
- 3-4 page Comparative Argument Essay = 10 points
- 5-6 page Summative Essay = 20 points
- End of Semester Self-reflection = 2 points

Reading

Twelve reading responses = 12 points

Writing Center

22.5 hours attendance, minimum 3 conferences = 10 points

Participation

Class discussion and participation = 18 points

Letter Grades will be based on the following: 93-100=A / 90-92=A- / 87-89=B+ / 83-86=B / 80-82=B- / 77-79=C+ / 70-76=C / 60-69=D / 59 and below=F.

Summative Essay

Towards the end of the semester you must choose one of your first two essays for a substantive revision, which will be your summative essay. In this revision, you'll want to include stronger evidence from our readings (paraphrase, summary, quotation); stronger organization, sentence variety, and word choice; and the correction of any remaining errors. Since this work will represent your strongest work for the semester, it should demonstrate your readiness for English 1A. This revision will count for 20% of your course grade, so please take it seriously and give yourself plenty of time.

Writing Center

In order to receive 10% of your grade for Writing Center attendance you must 1) Complete 22.5 hours in the WC; 2) Complete three tutor conferences on your essays—at least one for each essay. Should you not complete both parts of the requirement, you will lose the full 10%, which could cause you to fail.

Tutoring

For all three of your out-of-class essays, you must have an instructor/tutor conference in the Writing Center. Please note: if you use the Light Center or the LAC tutoring staff, this is also OK as long as the tutoring form is filled out and signed. After our first draft workshop you must revise your essay then bring the assignment, the first draft, the revised draft and the tutor form to the Writing center for your conference. You will need to hand in all these materials including your completed tutor form (filled out by the tutor) with your final draft.

Due Dates and Late Work

Final drafts are due at the beginning of class on the due date listed on your assignment schedule. You are allowed one late final draft for this course, but this may only be used for the first two papers. This gives you one week's extension only. After that you'll lose a letter grade a day.

Draft Workshops

These are required. In order to make sure you understand how important these are, first drafts are worth 25% of the value of each paper. Thus, you cannot go higher than a “C” on a final draft if you have missed the draft workshop or came with no work at all. Absences are not acceptable on Draft Workshop days unless you have an emergency and you have written note from a doctor, an accident report, or an excused athletic absence for an away game. Drafts must be word processed; hand written drafts are not acceptable.

Revisions

You are entitled to revise any of your three papers this semester for a higher grade if you have completed the required draft workshops and turned your work in on time. This revision can count both towards the individual paper grade and may be used as your summative essay (on papers one and two). In order to do a revision, however, you must attend a tutor conference and turn in your graded essay, your additional tutor slip (signed and dated), and your revised essay. Revisions should be completed within one week of receiving your work back from me.

Classroom Rules

- 1) Don't come in late or leave early; don't schedule appointments during class sessions.
- 2) Don't get up and go to the bathroom in the middle of class, unless it's absolutely necessary.
- 3) Don't eat in class unless you are diabetic, and you've indicated that to me.

Cell Phones

Cell phone use is strictly prohibited in the classroom. Please turn off the ringers and vibrate mode; they are distracting to you, your peers, and me. Any and all cell phone use, including text messaging is not allowed. Students fiddling with their phones will be asked to leave class and marked with an absence.

Conduct

This class involves a great deal of class discussion; during this exchange of ideas I expect all of us to be respectful, patient and open-minded in our interactions with each other. Therefore, please be aware that the use of sexist, racist or homophobic language will on no account be tolerated.

Class Attendance Policy

More than two absences will adversely affect your participation grade. Four absences and you will be dropped from the class.

The English Department Attendance Policy

Students at the College are expected to attend all sessions of each class in which they are enrolled. For example, if a class meets twice a week, students should not exceed 4 absences for the semester. If a student exceeds the limit on absences before week 11 of the semester, an instructor will notify the student that he or she has been dropped. After that notification, students are still responsible to go into Web Advisor and withdraw themselves from the class, in order not to receive an F. After week 10, excessive absences will likely result in failure.

Excused absences require written medical, legal, or athletic documentation.

Because much of the classroom work you do is with your peers, your absence will adversely affect your peer group. Also, if you are more than 10 minutes late to a class meeting you are still welcome to attend but be aware that you will be marked absent for that day.

BE AWARE: Even if an instructor drops a student due to excessive absences, it is the student's responsibility to officially withdraw from class. Students must drop their classes by the appropriate deadline date through the current registration system (week 10).

Plagiarism and Academic Misconduct

Cheating, plagiarism, collusion, abuse of resource materials, computer misuse, fabrication or falsification, multiple submissions, complicity in academic misconduct, and/ or bearing false witness will not be tolerated. Violations will be dealt with according to the procedures and sanctions proscribed by the College of the Redwoods. Students caught plagiarizing or cheating on exams will receive an "F" in the course.

The student code of conduct is available on the College of the Redwoods website at:

<http://www.redwoods.edu/District/Board/New/Chapter5/Ap5500.pdf>

Turnitin.com (Online Plagiarism Checker)

All essays must be posted to Turnitin.com before you can receive credit for them. The process is simple and takes only a few minutes. You can access Turnitin by going to Turnitin.com, and you will be able to submit your paper in the Writing Center or anywhere that you have access to the Internet. The class ID # and password will be distributed in class and posted at the class Canvas site.

Special accommodations

College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact Disabled Students Programs and Services. Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS.

College of the Redwoods is committed to equal opportunity in employment, admission to the college, and in the conduct of all of its programs and activities.

Please note: The syllabus may be updated or amended as needed.

English 150 Assignment Schedule

The class Assignment Schedule lists all homework assignments on the day that they are due. There will be a reading response to each essay we read. These responses will take the form of out of class reading responses and in-class writing (ICW) so make sure you have done the readings and are prepared to write about them in class. Homework will always be listed in the Assignment Schedule under the headings Read and Write.

All your work should be collected in a folder or binder and brought to every class meeting. Your binder should contain your Syllabus and Assignment Schedule, work-in-progress, assignments to turn in, and any handouts I pass out. You should keep this paperwork, as well as assignments that have been returned to you and prewriting/drafts of formal essays, until the class is over.

All your papers must be typed using the Modern Language Association (MLA) formatting guidelines: Papers must be double spaced, with one inch margins, using Times New Roman font. The title is centered, and the page number and your last name are placed in the top right corner (use header to place these). Your name, my name, the class title and the date are placed in the top left corner (don't put in header). All essays must be typed using MLA formatting.

Please bring your texts to class on all days that readings from them are listed on the assignment schedule. Bring Easywriter to all class meetings. Abbreviations: Food Matters = FM, Critical Reading and Writing = CRW, Salmon Is Everything=SIE and EasyWriter = EW.
