Course Description
A transfer-level course in critical reading and reasoned writing. Students analyze issues and claims presented in visual, oral, or written arguments and write analytical and argumentative essays based on those issues. Research and source-based writing, employing correct MLA documentation, is required; minimum 6,000 words formal writing.
Student Learning Outcomes
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Analyze argumentative claims. 2. Respond to arguments with persuasive critical essays. 3. Locate, synthesize, and document sources for use in response to arguments.
Special Accommodations
College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact Disabled Students Programs and Services. Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS at 707-476-4280.
Academic Support
Academic support is available at Counseling and Advising and includes academic advising and educational planning, Academic Support Center for tutoring and proctored tests, and Extended Opportunity Programs & Services, for eligible students, with advising, assistance, tutoring, and more.
Academic Honesty
In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website at:

www.redwoods.edu/district/board/new/chapter5/documents/AP5500StudentConductCodeandDisciplinaryProceduresrev1.pdf Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the college catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive Classroom Behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, he or she may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website at:

www.redwoods.edu/district/board/new/chapter5/documents/AP5500StudentConductCodeandDisciplinaryProceduresrev1.pdf

Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the college catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Emergency Procedures for the Eureka campus:

Please review the campus evacuation sites, including the closest site to this classroom (posted by the exit of each room). The Eureka campus emergency map is available at: (http://www.redwoods.edu/Eureka/campus-maps/EurekaMap_emergency.pdf). For more information on Public Safety, go to <http://redwoods.edu/safety/> In an emergency that requires an evacuation of the building:

- Be aware of all marked exits from your area and building.
- Once outside, move to the nearest evacuation point outside your building:
- Keep streets and walkways clear for emergency vehicles and personnel.
- Do not leave campus, unless it has been deemed safe by the Incident Commander or campus authorities. (CR's lower parking lot and Tompkins Hill Rd are within the Tsunami Zone.)

RAVE – College of the Redwoods has implemented an emergency alert system. In the event of an emergency on campus you can receive an alert through your personal email and/or phones at your home, office, and cell. Registration is necessary in order to receive emergency alerts. Please go to <https://www.GetRave.com/login/Redwoods> and use the “Register” button on the top right portion of the registration page to create an account. During the registration process you can elect to add additional information, such as office phone, home phone, cell phone, and personal email. Please use your CR email address as your primary Registration Email. Your CR email address ends with “redwoods.edu.” Please contact Public Safety at 707-476-4112 or security@redwoods.edu if you have any questions.

Syllabus for English 1A – Eureka Campus

College of the Redwoods is committed to equal opportunity in employment, admission to the college, and in the conduct of all of its programs and activities.

Welcome to English 1A

Required texts and materials: The required texts are the Mercury Reader (specifically for this class) (a copy of this reader is on reserve in the library) and The Bedford Handbook 9th ed. by Diana Hacker and Nancy Somers. Please note that students who do not have the textbooks by the second week of class often fail to complete the course. In addition, access to a computer with Internet access, a word processing application, and a printer are required. All work must be typed, double-spaced. All work that is more than one page must be stapled. Double-sided print pages are not acceptable. Library computers are set to double-sided prints, so you must change the default setting yourself before printing.

The English Department Attendance Policy: Attendance is mandatory. Since regular attendance is a critical factor in student success, students at the College of the Redwoods are expected to attend all sessions of each class in which they are enrolled. Census is September 12. If you are not actively participating (attending class meetings and turning in assignments) in the class as of that date, you will be dropped. If you are still enrolled after the census, you must continue to attend regularly. Students may not miss more than two weeks of class. For instance, our class meets three days a week; therefore, any more than 6 absences for the semester would be considered “excessive.” If a student exceeds the limit on absences, an instructor will notify the student that he or she has been dropped. After that date, excessive absences will likely result in failure. The last date to withdraw from a class is November 4. If you are not here, you cannot learn. If you are absent, you are still responsible for all work that is assigned (check the syllabus and Canvas). If you miss class, you must make up an in class work within a week. If you are absent, all deadlines remain in force.

Canvas: Please check Canvas regularly. Supplemental materials, information, handouts, are posted on Canvas. Access Canvas by logging in with the first part of your CR email address [BBaggins111] and your birthday [011481]. This class, and all English classes, use the MLA format for papers. A template for this format is available on Canvas. Download this template and use it for all papers and homework. Please read all announcements and emails from me in a timely manner. Not checking your Canvas account is not an excuse for not knowing or not fulfilling requirements.

Classwork Bring the MR and the BH to each class. You are required to keep a notebook for this class. A 3-ring binder is best since you must retain all completed and ongoing work as well as all handouts. I recommend section dividers for reading, essay assignments and for the research paper project. We will practice many important skills during our in class workshops. Often, these activities will carry over from one class to the next. Sometimes, we will start the exercise in class, and you will finish it as homework. All of these exercises and activities count toward your overall grade, so keep track of them and turn them in.

Homework: The reading assignments are challenging, requiring extra effort for full comprehension. The writing assignments about the readings will help you develop reading strategies and critical thinking skills. The reading homework will form the foundation for the formal essays you will be writing. If you do not fully digest and understand the readings, you will have difficulty synthesizing them into your own analytical and argumentative writing. Late homework must be turned in within one week. After that I will no longer accept it. If you wish to revise homework for a better grade, the revision (along with the original graded assignment) must be turned in within a week of the original due date. I will give you a handout on Close Reading that will include the reading assignments and due dates. Please refer to this page regularly. Failure to read the schedule is not an excuse for late work. All homework must be typed, double-spaced in the MLA format, in Times Roman 12 font, printed on one side of the page only. Homework that is not in the suitable format will not be accepted and will be considered late.

Essays: Essays must address all parts of the essay assignment, including the prompt, the format, the minimum page requirements. Essays that do not fulfill the minimum page requirement will not receive full credit. All essays must be formatted in the Modern Language Association (MLA) style. Essays must be typed, double-spaced in the MLA format, in Times Roman 12 font, printed on one side of the page only. Essays that are not in a suitable format will not be accepted. There is a template set up in the MLA format available for download on Canvas.

In this class, the writing process is important. Your participation in each step of the process will improve the quality of your papers. Although you may be permitted to revise a disappointing essay, it's better to revise your drafts before the final draft is due rather than after you have received a poor grade. And revision of an essay will require a discussion with me and a plan for how you will improve the essay. A grading rubric will be provided for your essays. You must submit the final draft of your essays to Turnitin.com, a website that checks for plagiarism, before the final draft is due. Failure to do so will result in a zero on that essay. You have one week to turn in a late paper. After that, it will not be accepted. If you choose to revise your essay, you must submit an application to revise immediately. Revisions must be turned in within two weeks of the original due date. Revisions must also be re-submitted to turnitin.com.

The essays you write will include source material. In class you will learn to use source material correctly, effectively, and appropriately. Essays should be no more than 25% source material. Essays that include 40% or more source material will not be accepted. If your essay contains undocumented source material (plagiarism), you will receive a 0.

NOTE: I do not accept electronic submissions. You must hand in a print copy of your work. If you are absent on the due date, your paper is late. If you are absent on the last day for you to submit late work, that is your responsibility. Internet interruptions and printer malfunctions are not excuses for missing deadlines for late work.

Common Courtesy: Common courtesy includes being civil to the instructor and classmates, being on time, not disrupting the class for any reason, having cell phones turned off and put away, letting me know if you're a caretaker who may have to answer your cell phone during class, not eating or drinking in the classroom, except for water, and in general, being considerate of the instructor and the other students in the class. Inappropriate language, cursing, racial, ethnic, sexist, or heterosexist epithets will not be tolerated. Please keep in mind that someone has paid for the students to be in the class whether it's the students themselves who have paid, their parents, or California taxpayers. Someone has paid for the students in the class to be able to learn, and they can't learn if I have to stop class due to disruptive behavior.

It is against CR policy for unenrolled people to sit in on classes. Please do not bring guests to class. Ask your friends or family to wait for you outside. Please don't put me in the awkward position of asking people to leave. Thank you for your cooperation on this.

Be Prepared: Being prepared means being on time for class, having done all the required reading and writing, having your textbook and papers notebook paper and pen/pencil with you, and being prepared to participate in small group or whole class discussions or other class activities. Being even five minutes late for class may mean you have missed important information on an assignment, or instruction for the activity of the day. For the most part, you must bring the Reader and the Handbook to each class. If you are late, please do not expect me or other students to stop what we are doing to catch you up. Pick up the handout at the back of the class and/or read the board.

Responding to Writing: You will, at times, be sharing your writing with your classmates. Please consider everything you write in English 1A as public. Don't write anything for this class that you're not willing to have your classmates read and discuss. When responding to the writing of your peers, please be constructive and helpful.

Grading: The instructor uses letter grades. Assignments are weighted. Please check Canvas regularly to review your grades. If you notice an error, please bring me the graded assignment so I can correct it. Missing Assignments will receive a 0 until they are turned in. I accept late and make-up work if it is turned in within a week of the due date. I will accept revised work if it is turned in within two weeks of the original turn in date. Keep track of your grades and missing assignments on Canvas. The last week of class or after final grades have been posted it too late to wonder about missing grades or missing assignments.

NOTE: I strongly recommend that you sign up for English 53A Writing Center hours. The Writing Center provides experienced tutors, computers and reference materials. You can get help with the readings, essay writing, and the MLA. Go to LRC 102 and meet Leslie Leach, the Director. Register on Webadvisor—a half unit in the Writing Center could enhance your learning experience and improve your grade in English 1A.

This syllabus is a contract between student and instructor. Be sure that you understand the content of the course policies because if you stay in the course, you are accepting them. I will hold you to them.
