Course Description

English 1A is a transfer-level course in critical reading and reasoned writing. Students analyze issues and claims presented in visual, oral, or written arguments and write analytical and argumentative essays based on those issues. Research and source-based writing, employing correct MLA documentation, is required; minimum 6,000 words formal writing. Prerequisite: English 150 or 102.

Hybrid Course Description: This section of English 1A combines on-campus community-based learning with off-campus technology-based learning. The course includes face-to-face classroom instruction and activities as well as online assignments and discussion forums using the web-based instructional program Canvas. To be successful in this course, students must be comfortable working in an online environment, organized and self-motivated to complete coursework by deadline, and committed to attending and participating in all class sessions and conferences.

Course Learning Outcomes

Students successfully completing English 1A should demonstrate the following competencies:

- Analyze argumentative claims.
- Respond to arguments with persuasive critical essays.
- Locate, synthesize, and document sources for use in response to arguments.

Course Learning Objectives

Students successfully completing English 1A should demonstrate the following competencies:

- Read, analyze, and evaluate a variety of primarily non-fiction texts for content, context, and rhetorical merit with consideration of tone, audience, and purpose.
- Apply a variety of rhetorical strategies in writing unified, well-organized essays with arguable theses and persuasive support.
- Develop varied and flexible strategies for generating, drafting, and revising essays.
- Analyze stylistic choices in their own writing and the writing of others.
- Write timed essays in class exhibiting acceptable college-level control of mechanics, organization, development, and coherence.
- Integrate the ideas of others through paraphrasing, summarizing, and quoting without plagiarism.
- Find, evaluate, analyze, and interpret primary and secondary sources, incorporating them into written essays using appropriate documentation format.
- Proofread and edit essays for presentation so they exhibit no disruptive errors in English grammar, usage, or punctuation.

COURSEWORK REQUIREMENTS AND GRADES

Presence (10%)

Everyone has the opportunity to earn 100% in this grading category by complying with all attendance, participation, preparedness, and behavior policies during class and library sessions as well as individual conferences. These policies are summarized in the list below. See also the Course Policies section of the Course Syllabus.

- Arrive to class/conferences on time and remain for entire session (visit restroom before class)
- Miss no more than 2 class sessions during the semester
- Avoid disruptive and disrespectful behavior, especially toward fellow students and instructor
- Refrain from laptop, tablet, and cell phone use unless approved by instructor
- Print hard copies before class of all required assignments and texts
- Actively and appropriately engage in all class and online assignments, discussions, workshops, and activities

Failure to observe each policy detailed in this Course Syllabus will negatively affect the Presence grade each week. Missed class sessions, conferences, and in-class work may not be made-up.

Reflection (15%)

Each week, students will engage in a variety of reflective and metacognitive writing exercises, including weekly reflective journals (RFJ) posted to Canvas. These journals ask students to first read and annotate selected passages from the required text Naming What We Know (NWWK) and then compose a minimum 400-word RFJ that reflects on the assigned reading and its relevance to student writing and writing practices.

Toward the end of the semester, students will draw upon these readings, journals, and all other course content to compose the Theory of Writing Essay.

Readings/Responses/Quizzes (20%)

Most weeks students will read and annotate selected texts from the free online textbook Writing Spaces: Readings on Writing. Additional readings will be drawn from other online and print sources as well. All course readings are available on Canvas as .pdf or Word documents and must be printed in hard copy form. A reading response (RR) associated with each text must be posted to Canvas by the published deadline. Some RRs require students to reply to classmates' postings as well to earn credit. Read "Composing Reading Responses" to get started. Occasionally, students will also take short "open book" reading quizzes online or in class.

Essay and Research Units (30%)

Students will complete three writing/research units consisting of a series of assignments called "The Writing Process." These assignments may include prewriting, drafts, revisions, workshops, activities, exercises, research, conferences, as well as feedback from instructors, peers, and consultants.

- Unit 1: Literacy Sponsorship Analysis (LSA) (5%)
- Unit 2: Scientific Accommodation Analysis (SAA) (10%)
- Unit 3: Discourse Community Ethnography (DCE) (15%)

Assessment Portfolio Requirements (20%)

In lieu of a final exam, students will create an Assessment Portfolio (AP) of extensively revised final draft essays that will be graded holistically by me at the end of the semester. This portfolio, worth a significant portion of the course grade, is the culminating assignment of the semester. Students must be earning at least a C (70%) in the course to submit an Assessment Portfolio.

Course Letter Grades

Course letter grades will be computed according to the weighted percentages for each grading category listed above and according to the total point percentage equivalents listed below. Students with a D+ (69.99 percent) or lower will receive a grade of "F" for the class and must reenroll in English 1A another semester in order to meet their Written Communication requirement. Incompletes are rarely issued for this course.

Letter Grade	Equivalent Percentages	Grade Description
A	94 - 100	Excellent
A-	90 - 93.99
B+	87 - 89.99	Good
B	83 - 86.99
B-	80 - 82.99
C+	77 - 79.99	Satisfactory
C	70 - 76.99
D	60 - 69.99	Failure without Credit
F or NC	0 - 59.99

Extra Credit: As per CR English Department policy, there is NO extra credit available in this course. Course grades are earned by attending class and conferences and completing required assignments.

COURSE POLICIES

Homework

To be successful in a college course, students should plan to spend two to three hours completing work outside of class each week per academic unit; therefore, in this 4-unit English 1A course, expect to spend 8-12 hours each week reading, writing, revising, and researching.

Communication

We will utilize a variety of methods (both online and face-to-face) to maintain contact throughout the semester:

- Check weekly Canvas announcements for upcoming assignments, activities, schedule changes
- Post questions and answers to the peer-monitored Canvas Peer Q and A Forum
- Contact instructor through the Canvas email system (replies within 24-48 hours, often sooner)
- Attend weekly office hours for more personal concerns or in-depth assistance with coursework
- Arrive to class a few minutes early for quick questions and clarification
- Review assignment feedback through Canvas rubrics and comments

Attendance and Promptness

Attendance is essential in a collaborative writing community operating in a hybrid environment. Because this class meets face-to-face only once per week, arriving late or leaving early is disruptive and interferes with my instruction and other classmates' learning and participation. If work, extracurricular activities, or personal schedules overlap or interfere with scheduled course dates and times, please take another section of English 1A.

Please visit the restroom, make phone calls, and print assignments before class. I call roll promptly at 3:15 PM. If students arrive late, it is their responsibility to see me after class that same day to verify attendance. See me immediately for a consultation if attendance and missing assignments become a problem.

Since regular attendance is a critical factor in student success, students at College of the Redwoods are expected to attend all sessions of each class in which they are enrolled. In general, absences may be considered excessive when the number of absences exceeds the total number of hours that the class meets during one week. Our course meets one day per week for two hours; therefore, two (2) absences are allowed for the entire semester. A third (3rd) is considered excessive and will result in a NC for this course. Faculty may drop students for excessive absences through the end of the 10th week of the semester.

First Week Attendance Policy: Students who have been absent from a class session within the first week of instruction, without notifying the instructor before the absence, will be dropped from the course. Because our class meets only once per week, this drop policy extends to the second week as well so that I can provide CR with accurate Census data.

Participation and Preparedness

Participation and preparedness are essential in a hybrid course that requires both workshop-style class activities and significant online class participation. Please strictly observe the following course policies:

- Attend class and conferences regularly; arrive on time and remain for the entire session.
- Come to class / conference prepared with required texts, assignments, and materials in hand.
- Fully and thoughtfully engage in class and online workshops, responses, and discussions.
- Log on to Canvas regularly and complete assignments per instructions and by deadline.
- Print readings and essays before class and submit them as instructed

Classroom and Online Behavior

Please adhere to the class and online behavior policies listed below. Students who disregard these policies will be asked to leave the classroom and may be dropped from English 1A and assigned a grade of "F" if behavior is deemed egregious.

- Always maintain tolerance, respect, and appropriate social behavior in class and online.
- Be fully present, free of drugs and alcohol. (Impaired students will be asked to leave class)
- Turn off and store cell phones, tablets, and laptops unless approved for class use.
- Refrain from texting or accessing personal email and social networking sites during class.

Deadline and Submission Policy

Each week, students are responsible for accessing Canvas to view the current schedule (in the form of weekly modules) to review, complete, submit, and print assignments, readings, quizzes, and discussion forums as directed. Developing and maintaining excellent time management and organizational skills are critical to successful completion of this course.

Essay drafts must be formatted according to MLA guidelines; templates are provided to simplify this process. Documents uploaded to Canvas must be in .doc or .docx file formats only (Microsoft Word). All students with a college email address have free access to Office 365 at <https://products.office.com/en-us/student/office-in-education>. Canvas will not accept other file formats, and improperly formatted assignments will not receive credit.

Reading and writing homework as well as class activities build on one another and emphasize cumulative learning; therefore, late assignments posted to Canvas (but before class) will receive a 10% point deduction. I do not accept assignments via email, and I will not print assignments for students.

Please see me as soon as possible if you are experiencing difficulty completing coursework, or if extenuating circumstances are affecting your attendance or academic performance. I want you to be successful in this course.

Academic Honesty

Cheating, plagiarism, collusion, abuse of resource materials, computer misuse, fabrication or falsification, multiple submissions, complicity in academic misconduct, and/ or bearing false witness will not be tolerated. Violations will be dealt with according to the procedures and sanctions proscribed by the College of the Redwoods. Students caught plagiarizing or cheating on exams will receive an “F” in the course. The student code of conduct is available on the College of the Redwoods website at: <http://www.redwoods.edu/Portals/50/BoardPolicies/Chapter5/AP%205500.pdf?ver=2016-04-13-155222-227>

To discourage plagiarism, the CR English Department requires English 1A students to post all essays to Turnitin.com before they can receive credit. The process is simple and can be completed through our Canvas site. If tempted to plagiarize or cheat, or if confused about properly citing sources, please see me immediately so that we can work together to address these issues.
