Course Description
A transfer-level course in critical reading and reasoned writing. Students analyze issues and claims presented in visual, oral, or written arguments and write analytical and argumentative essays based on those issues. Research and source-based writing, employing correct MLA documentation, is required.
Student Learning Outcomes
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Analyze argumentative claims. 2. Respond to arguments with persuasive critical essays. 3. Locate, synthesize, and document sources for use in response to arguments. Revise and edit for sentence structure and mechanics.
Special Accommodations
College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact Disabled Students Programs and Services. Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS at 707-476-4280.
Academic Honesty
In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student’s status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website at: http://www.redwoods.edu/board/Board-Policies/Chapter-5-Student-Services, and scroll to AP 5500. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the college catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.
Disruptive Classroom Behavior

Syllabus for Engl 1A – Eureka

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, he or she may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website at: <http://www.redwoods.edu/board/Board-Policies/Chapter-5-Student-Services> and scroll to AP 5500.

Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the college catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Necessary Computer Skills

For completion of this course, all students should be able to use Canvas software, as well as email, Microsoft Word (or other word processing program), and read PDF files. Students should also know how to play video and/or audio and record on their own to upload to Canvas. See <https://www.redwoods.edu/online/Help-Student> for full Canvas requirements. Microsoft Office 365 is available for free to students who are currently attending CR. The service includes Office Online (Word, PowerPoint, Excel, and OneNote), 1TB of OneDrive storage, Yammer, and SharePoint sites. See:

Course Communication

Students may contact me at any point using email (jenny-brown@redwoods.edu), on campus during my office hours, face-to-face by appointment, or in the weekly Q&A discussion module.

Course Description: A transfer-level course in critical reading and writing. You will learn to analyze claims and interpret college level texts as well as audio and visual arguments. You will then transform your analysis into well-researched argumentative essays.

For the Pop Culture - The Arts theme, This English 1A examines music, music writing, and music culture in order to observe, analyze and deconstruct emerging rhetoric in the subject.

All drafts of the essays should follow all MLA format guidelines.

Course Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Analyze argumentative claims.
2. Respond to arguments with persuasive critical essays.
3. Locate, synthesize, and document sources for use in response to arguments.
4. Revise and edit for sentence structure and mechanics.

Pre-requisites: English 150 with a C grade or better or assessment recommendation for English 1A.

Course Requirements and Expectations of Student:

Students should expect to:

1. Demonstrate use of rhetorical techniques in the production of original pieces of writing.
2. Read professional and student texts actively and critically.

3. Use the writers' workshop and/or peer and instructor feedback to evaluate their own manuscripts as well as the manuscripts of others.
4. Participate in a community of writers.
5. Submit assignments in a timely manner and dedicate time and energy into our community of writers.

Course Expectations of Instructor:

Students should expect that their instructor will:

1. Participate as a community member
2. Be available within 24 hours of written communication
3. Treat students fairly and with respect to all participants
4. Provide prompt and adequate feedback for all assignment submissions
5. Provide help to anyone that needs it.

Course Participation Policy

Students are expected to comply with all expectations and requirements of students (see above). Each of you is an important member of our community and should accept responsibility to be part of the workshop at all times. You will quickly establish your role in the workshop, and we will miss you when you do not participate.

Required Texts

1. Byrne, David. How Music Works. New York: McSweeney's, 2012.
2. Wardle, Elizabeth. Writing About Writing: A College Reader. Third Edition. New York: Bedford/St. Martin's, 2016.
3. Woodworth, Marc. How to Write About Music. Bloomsbury Academic, 2015.

Course Assignments and Requirements

Writing Assignments:

Course assignments will be posted on Canvas in Assignments, located on the left side panel of the course home page. The due date for each assignment will be clearly indicated underneath each assignment, as well as repeated within the assignment explanation under each assignment heading. Course assignments are expected to be completed by the assignment due date.

You will have four assignments throughout the semester. There will be three essays and one presentation with notes. Each essay will be between 1200 – 1500 words, which is about 4-5 pages. All essays should have a clear thesis in which a claim is made, and then proved with examples for support. Your arguments should be logical, complex, and well supported with facts and analysis. They should all be written in MLA format. The essays are equally weighted at 20 points each, equaling 80.

In-Class and Online Assignments:

In-Class: One every two weeks or so, you will have a class period in which you are presented with a claim and must spend the remainder of the class writing an argumentative essay. Some of these will be announced, and others will not. These will afford you the ability to think on your feet.

Online: Online prompts will be posted at least one week in advance, and you will have those 7 days to complete the assignments and respond to 2 peers in the discussion. The original post will be a minimum of 250 words, while the thoughtful responses will be a minimum of 150 words.

These Assignments be graded for completion only, but the total of which will be incorporated with your participation grade for the remaining 20 points of the 100 for the class (The other 80 points will be the essays). They cannot be made up or turned in late.

Participation:

In order to be an active member of the classroom, you must participate. By reading the assignments, coming to class, and being prepared to engage in active discussion, you will become a more critical thinker and thus, a better argumentative writer. Participation will be incorporated into the 20 pts. used for in-class assignments.

Readings:

All the readings are required for this class. You must be prepared to discuss and write about each reading assignment on the day that it is due. Failure to do so will signal failure to participate in class. You wouldn't going skiing and leave your skis at home, so don't come to class without being prepared.

Rough Draft Workshops: The week before an assignment is due, we will have a day of in-class workshops. These are mandatory. You will bring in a printed copy of your typed essay and be prepared to actively work on it in class with the help of your peers.

Late Work

Work will be considered Late if posted after the due date indicated on the assignment page. Points will be taken off for each day the required assignment is late.

Discussion submissions cannot be turned in late or made up later.

Grade Distribution

80 pts. - Four Essays (20 pts. each)
5 pts. - In-class writing, online discussions
5 pts. - Weekly Reading Quizzes
10 pts. - Class Participation/Attendance

= 100 pts. total

Revisions:

If you receive a “D” or below on essays 1, 2, or 3, you may revise them for a higher grade. I will average the newer grade with the older grade for this newer grade. Please see me after grades are distributed and we will work out a schedule for completion of the new draft.

Supplies:

Please bring a pen and notebook to class every day. You will be required to write during every class period (this is a writing class, after all), and I will not have extras.

Please bring assigned reading for the day to class with you.

Final Exam:

Your final exam will be your fourth essay. It will be due on the day of your official final (see class schedule below), but you will hand it in via canvas.

Food in Class:

In addition, please do not bring meals into the classroom. Drinks and granola bars are fine, but food requiring utensils or preparation is very distracting (not to mention, smelly). Eat before you get to class.

Attendance / Lateness Policy:

Writing is a skill that improves with practice and feedback, so all students are expected to attend and be on time and prepared for every class. This means bring all your books to class! All absences are considered unexcused unless otherwise negotiated with the instructor.

In addition, don’t be late! By arriving late you interrupt and distract the class. Lateness will not be tolerated.

Weekly Lessons and Assignments for Class (online and in-person)

Online: Weekly Lessons and Assignments featuring interactive or readable text and/or video will be located under the Modules Tool on the Canvas homepage for our class. Students will be expected to check back daily for updates, discussions, and assignments. The module for the week will be available starting Sundays at 12:00A.M.

For Class on Fridays: Built into the Weekly Module Lesson will be information about what to complete for Friday in-person classes. See Modules Tool for more information.
