Catalog Description

English 1A is an introductory course that offers instruction in expository and argumentative writing, appropriate and effective use of language, close reading, cogent thinking, research strategies, information literacy, and documentation.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate the capacity to read, analyze and evaluate non-fiction texts in support of academic inquiry and argumentation.
2. Utilize flexible strategies for writing expository and argumentative college-level essays.
3. Incorporate primary and secondary sources into essays using appropriate documentation format.

Prerequisites/co-requisites/ recommended preparation

Placement into English 1A is determined according to the default AB 705 guidelines or the results of the guided self-placement process.

Accessibility

College of the Redwoods is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability-related services and accommodations, please contact your instructor or Disability Services and Programs for Students (DSPS). Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS based on their campus location:

- Eureka: 707-476-4280, student services building, 1st floor
- Del Norte: 707-465-2324, main building near library
- Klamath-Trinity: 530-625-4821 Ext 103

If you are taking online classes DSPS will email approved accommodations for distance education classes to your instructor. In the case of face-to-face instruction, please present your written accommodation request to your instructor at least one week before the needed accommodation so that necessary arrangements can be made. Last minute arrangements or post-test adjustments usually cannot be accommodated.

Student Support

Good information and clear communication about your needs will help you be successful. Please let your instructor know about any specific challenges or technology limitations that might affect your participation in class. College of the Redwoods wants every student to be successful.

Textbooks and Supplies

- All required readings will be available in PDF form on our Canvas site. Additional materials and links to online resources will be provided as well.
- Please purchase a good, college-ruled composition book for reading notes and writing activities.

Technological Requirements

- A reliable, working computer
- Microsoft Word or another related software used to create, open, download, and print .docx and .pdf files
- Daily internet access
- An active CR Student Email (<https://www.redwoods.edu/students/email>)

Introduction

Welcome to English 1-A, also known as College Composition. During this semester you will learn, practice, and develop advanced writing skills that will help ensure your overall college success. In addition, you will engage in critical inquiry that will allow you to examine the world we all live in with enhanced curiosity and awareness.

Students are often led to believe that writing is primarily about avoiding errors and providing the right answer, or that writing is a "natural" talent that some people have and others do not. English 1A will intentionally challenge these assumptions. We will consider how the writing process can be used to express ourselves clearly and effectively. We will explore ways to understand, assess, and reflect on our own lives and surroundings through open inquiry, critical thinking, textual analysis, and the art of argumentation. We will contemplate the power of language to create meaning, and the role it plays in a world that is becoming increasingly more dependent on advanced technology, media, and visual stimulation.

Coursework

Each week, you will be responsible for accessing Canvas to view the current schedule (located in the weekly modules) and plan ahead for a timely completion of the reading and writing assignments. Time management and organizational skills are absolutely essential in the online learning environment. All homework activities, class discussions, and formal papers build on one another and emphasize cumulative learning. You must then stay connected, informed, and on track. When in doubt, communicate with me directly and make sure you submit everything on time. Your own success in the course depends on it!

Individual assignments must be uploaded to Canvas where they will be evaluated (complete/incomplete or points) and graded according to published requirements and rubrics. Students can monitor their own progress in the course by periodically checking their grades on Canvas and contacting the instructor when they have questions. As per CR English Department policy, extra credit is not available. Course grades are earned by fully participating in class and by successfully completing all required assignments.

- Missing assignments will be marked incomplete or a zero in Canvas grades.
- Please contact me as soon as possible if you are experiencing difficulty completing coursework, or if extenuating circumstances are affecting your participation. I am here to help, and I want everyone to be successful in this course!

Evaluation & Grading Policy

I use a system of points in this class. You have the opportunity to earn up to 600 points, which then correspond to your final letter grade. This is transferable to CR's grading policy (A = 93-100; A- = 90-92; B+ = 89-87; B = 86-83; B- = 82-80; C+ = 79-77; C = 76-70; D = 69-60; F = 59-0).

The point breakdown is as follows:

Reading Responses:	140
Discussions:	140
Essay #1:	100
Essay #2:	100
Essay #3:	120

Total:	600

Important note: It is the official CR policy that in order to pass the course you must receive a C or higher as your final grade. That is 70% of 600 points, which equals 420 points.

Reading and Writing assignments:

Each week students will read selected texts located on our Canvas site. You will have to print out the readings and actively engage with the text by annotating. Reading journals and discussion forum posts will be submitted on Canvas.

Formal Essays:

Students will complete three formal academic essays. Each essay will be between 5-7 pages of double-spaced text in size 12 Times New Roman font. Each essay will be composed in stages that are also referred to as The Writing Process, which may include prewriting exercises, drafts, revisions, research assignments, editing and proofreading, and feedback along the way from instructors, peers, and consultants.

Presence:

Students will earn credit each week by complying with all Course and College Policies including the following:

- Actively and appropriately engaging in the class through participation on Canvas;
- Refraining from disruptive and disrespectful behavior;
- Completing weekly learning reflections and other assignments that indicate a presence on Canvas.

To be successful in a college course, students should plan to spend at least 2 hours completing work outside of class each week per academic unit; therefore, in this 4-unit English 1A course, expect to spend about 8 hours each week reading, writing, revising, and researching.

Since this is an asynchronous course, it is imperative that students take a much more active role in their approach to success. This means submitting weekly homework assignments on time and fully participating in weekly class discussions.

Assignment Feedback:

Feedback will be available to students through various Canvas features including rubrics, comment bubbles, grading comments, and audio/video recordings. For additional verbal feedback in a one-on-one conference, you are encouraged to make a Zoom appointment with me.

Turnitin.com:

To discourage plagiarism, the CR English Department requires English 1A students to post all essays to Turnitin.com before they can receive credit. The process is automatically completed through our Canvas site, and students will be able to see resulting reports and make revisions to essays as needed. Students should contact the instructor immediately to address any issues or questions related to cheating or unintentional plagiarism.

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Setting Your Preferred Name in Canvas

Students have the ability to have an alternate first name and pronouns to appear in Canvas. Contact Admissions & Records to request a change to your preferred first name and pronoun. Your Preferred Name will only be listed in Canvas. This does not change your legal name in our records. See the Student Information Update form.
