Major Assignments | Essays 60%

Graded Discussions 25%

Assessments 15%

Assignment Descriptions

Genre Analysis Essay

(Developmental Draft 500-word minimum & Polished Draft 500-word minimum)

You will choose a genre of writing, explain its conventions, and relate those conventions to the work that the genre does for the people who use it. If you can get used to doing this kind of analysis when you encounter new genres, you'll be able to create documents in those genres more quickly and successfully yourself and become a better reader of them when you encounter other instances of them.

Navigating Sources that Disagree Essay

(Developmental Draft 500-word minimum & Polished Draft 900-word minimum)

You will examine texts that appear to disagree and analyze them rhetorically in order to understand how and why their authors disagree. You will then write an analytical, research-based essay in which you provide an answer to the question: Why do authors of texts in the debate on X disagree? And how?

Source-Based Argumentative Essay

(Developmental Draft 500-word minimum & Polished Draft 1,200-word minimum)

You will be asked to choose an appropriate research topic that interests you, find and analyze five sources, and integrate those sources avoiding plagiarism, to draft an argumentative paper about the topic.

Graded Discussions

(150-word minimum response & 50-word minimum replies)

All graded discussions ask students to formulate clear, complete thoughts about course readings and content in a 150-word response. Students will be expected to actively engage with their peers' discussion posts to earn full credit, which means they will submit a response and meaningfully reply to two of their peers. The replies to peers should be a minimum of 50 words.

Assessments

Students' understanding of critical course concepts will be assessed mid-way through the semester and at the end of the semester. An assessment will pose a question to which students will respond reflectively. Assessments do not have a minimum word requirement. Students should engage with these reflective questions candidly and meaningfully.

Academic Dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, the determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Late Work

Late work will be accepted if an arrangement for an extension is made in advance (prior to the assignment's due date). I understand life happens, and very often we find ourselves overwhelmed at the most inopportune of times; however, deadlines should be respected when possible. In order to provide quality, timely feedback, I must receive work on time or be given notice that work will be late.

To request an extension, I ask that students do the following:

Utilizing canvas messaging, draft a message to me with "Extension [Assignment Name]" in the subject line. In the body of your message, explain the situation and then tell me your plan. Do you plan to turn it in tomorrow? Two days? Do you need an additional week?

This information will help me to negotiate with you a revised due date that will fit within both of our schedules. Keep in mind, extensions are granted on a case-to-case basis. I may not always be able to grant an extension. Further, I will not grant an extension after the due date has passed.

Feedback

Quality, timely feedback will be given on all major assignments. Students should expect feedback to come within two weeks following the assignment's due date. All feedback will be available through canvas. It is your responsibility as the student to read feedback and use it to develop your essays to their polished drafts.

Disruptive Behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.
