Participation (30%)
You will receive a participation point for each of our 30 class meetings if you can check ALL of these boxes: <input type="checkbox"/> Attendance during 100% of the class session (if you're more than a few minutes late you lose your point!)

- Engaged participation in ALL of the activities during the class session (sleeping, texting, or doing homework for other classes do not demonstrate engaged participation!)
- Preparation, including bringing your books and materials to class and completing all readings and assignments by the due date. Most class meetings will include a quiz on the previous reading assignment, and your performance on this quiz will help show me whether you came to class prepared.

Chapter Tests (30%)

You will demonstrate your understanding of each textbook chapter by passing a test. Chapter tests are graded A, B, C, F or zero (for no attempt); there are no D's. You will have 3 chances to pass each chapter, but to receive an A you need to earn it on the first attempt, and the highest grade you can earn on the third attempt is a C. You will always know exactly what the learning goals are for each chapter before you begin reading it, which will help you master the material. The make-up chapter tests become more time-consuming, so it is in your interest to prepare well for the initial test.

Course Journal (20%)

I'll assign 2 journal entries from your textbook each week. The journal assignments ask you to reflect on the concepts you are reading about and to apply them to your own life. I'll grade your journal based on how thoughtful and complete each entry is; each entry is worth 10 points, and will receive a 10 (exceeds expectations, very thoughtful, very complete), a 7 (meets basic expectations), or a 5 (does not meet expectations).

I expect you to do your best as you write your journals, but I realize some students struggle with writing issues like spelling and punctuation. These are journals, not term papers, so perfection is not expected, but high quality thinking is. Typed journals are easy for me to read, but legible handwritten entries are also acceptable. You should keep your journal entries in a section of your binder so you'll be prepared to turn them in periodically during the semester.

Student Education Plan or SEP (20%)

With the assistance of a counselor or advisor from Student Support Services, you will develop your own SEP. You must show evidence that you've completed your SEP by the due date of March 27. If you meet the deadline this is an automatic A grade; late completions will receive lower grades.

Attendance

Attendance is required since you cannot be learning if you are not here, and you always miss something when you're absent. There are no excused absences except for official school activities. Just as you would with a job, you must take responsibility for your absences and the assignments or tests you may miss. Students with excessive absences may be dropped from the course; more than five absences are considered excessive for GS6.

Classroom Environment

Everyone wants class time to be interesting and enjoyable! Each of us makes a powerful contribution in creating a successful learning community. I expect everyone's contribution to be positive, including my own. Here are positive actions I expect from each of us in every class:

- Be on time so you don't disrupt learning
- Have all your books and materials with you
- Turn off your cell phone and put it away
- Save snacks for the break and don't eat during class (drinks are OK)
- Leave the room quietly and rarely (you don't have to ask)
- Stay on task with the class work and avoid sleeping, texting, social networking, and homework from other classes
- Ask questions when you are confused
- Have a positive attitude—or fake it!
- Always treat all members of the class with respect and encouragement
- Take responsibility for the results of your work

Students who choose not to take these constructive actions are disrupting the learning of the whole class and will be asked to leave.

Special Accommodations

College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact Disabled Students Programs and Services. Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS.

Academic Misconduct

Cheating, plagiarism, collusion, abuse of resource materials, computer misuse, fabrication or falsification, multiple submissions, complicity in academic misconduct, and/ or bearing false witness will not be tolerated. Violations will be dealt with according to the procedures and sanctions proscribed by the College of the Redwoods. Students caught plagiarizing or cheating on exams will receive an "F" in the course.
