Responsibility for Keeping Up with Class Work

Please note that an excused absence on one or more days does not give you an excuse for missing any subsequent class periods, nor does it give you an indefinite amount of time to complete the assignments that were due on or following the day(s) that you were absent. You are responsible for attending class the next class period immediately following your last excused day of absence and handing in any excused past due assignments on that day. You are also responsible for turning in any assignments that come due after your excused absence even if you haven't yet turned in your official paperwork documenting your excuse.

If you were absent the day an assignment was announced or handed out it is your responsibility to find out what was assigned and to obtain any required materials.

Policy on Anticipated Absences

Attendance is important! You will be able to earn an extra 5 points for in class participation and in class assignments totaling 150 points, so make sure you attend regularly.

If you anticipate having to miss class at some point during the term, you are still responsible to get assignments in on or before the regular due date. If your anticipated absence falls on the day of a scheduled exam, you must make arrangements with me to take your exam in the testing center.

Excessive absences will affect your grade. If you have excessive absences you will be dropped from class on March 31 2017 this is last day for instructor drop. You will not receive a refund.

Classroom Etiquette

If we all adhere to the following common sense guidelines our class time together should be a pleasant experience for everyone:

- Be on time. If you need to leave early, please let me know before class begins. Avoid leaving class unless you need to take a bathroom break, in which case you do not need my permission to leave the classroom.
- Do not begin packing your belongings until I have dismissed the class for the day.
- Avoid interrupting people when they are talking, and please do not hold separate conversations during lecture, small-group, or large-group discussion, or when someone else has the floor. Those who continue to violate this norm will be asked to leave the classroom for the remainder of the session and will forfeit any credit for in-class work on that day.
- Address your fellow classmates respectfully, whether or not you agree with their particular viewpoints
- Refrain from disputing a score you received on an assignment or an exam during Class. If you have a complaint, wish to dispute your score, or want to discuss a returned assignment, please make an appointment to meet with me.
- Electronic learning equipment (laptops, notebooks, smart pads, smart phones, etc.) can only be used after gaining your instructor's permission and then, only after agreeing to my Rules of Conduct. If you are pre-authorized by Disabled Students Programs & Services (DSPPS) to use such devices in class, you may have certain rights of use, but you still must adhere to my Rules of Conduct regarding such use.

Communication and the Course Website

If you have questions about anything pertaining to the class please come chat with me before class or by appointment. If you need to contact me, the best way to reach me is via email. If/when you email me, please write “GS 6” in the subject heading and include in the body of the email your return email address. Email is always the best way to contact me. I don’t respond to email over the weekend.

Canvas There is a companion website for this course on the College of the Redwoods virtual educational environment called “Canvas”. You can access it by pointing your browser to the top of the CR website page, logging in, and then clicking on the link for this course. The course website for this class on Canvas contains important resources for the class and a grade book for keeping track of your progress.

Student Email Policy each of you was given a MyCR email address when you enrolled and/or registered for classes. Your MyCR email address is the one and only email address that I will be using when I communicate with students. Therefore, it is a course requirement that you activate your MyCR email account and check it regularly. You can log in to your account directly at: <http://www.google.com/a/mycr.redwoods.edu/>. You will login using your Web Advisor User ID, and the initial password is your six-digit birth date. College of the Redwoods recommends that you change your password. To learn more about your account and other CR online services, visit <http://www.redwoods.edu/CR-Online/mycr-email.asp>.

Special Notes:

- If at any point you personally decide to no longer attend the class it is your sole responsibility to officially withdraw from the course.
- The procedures in this course are subject to change at the instructor’s discretion.

Grading Policy:

Final grades are based on the following:

9 Quizzes (10 points each)	90
31 Success Journals (5 points each)	155
Student Education Plan	30
1 Final Essay	60
In class Participation (5 points each day)	150
11 Homework assignments	110
Total Possible Points	600

Grading Scale:

A = 540-600 points

B = 480-539 points

C = 420-479 points

D = 360-419 points

F = 0 - 359 points

Quizzes (90 Possible Points)

This course is for students who choose to be successful in college and in life. One of the most important factors of success in any endeavor is consistent and active participation. To encourage and reward your preparation for active participation at every class, Nine quizzes on the textbook will be given. If you have read the chapters and completed your journal entries, you should have no trouble earning the maximum points (10) for each one. No quiz may be made up Unless you made prior arrangements with instructor.

2. Success Journals (155 Possible Points)

Your Success Journal provides an opportunity to explore in writing your thoughts and feelings as you experiment with the success strategies presented in On Course. By carefully examining each strategy in your journal, you will discover which ones will assist you to create a rich, personally fulfilling life. Although I will be collecting your journals and looking through them, write it for yourself, not for me.

Journal Writings: During this semester, you will write up to 4 journal entries for each chapter from our textbook. Usually, these entries will be written outside of class. At various times you may have an opportunity to read a journal entry to one or more classmates. Please bring both your textbook and journal to every class.

If you choose to word process your Journal Entries on a computer, print and hand in hard copies of the entries when they are due for full weekly credit (5 points for each completed entry). Many students come to regard their journal as one of their most valued possessions.

Grammar, spelling, and punctuation will NOT be factors in awarding points in for journal entries. Feel free to express yourself.
