Course Information

Catalog Description

This course is designed to inform and assist students to obtain the knowledge and skills necessary to reach their educational objectives. Topics covered include: Self-discovery, motivation, memory development, time and stress management, text book reading, note and test-taking skills, healthy living practices, and career and academic planning. Students will be utilizing a wide variety of college resources, study skills, and techniques to support their goals.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate learning study skills.
2. Display self and academic awareness.
3. Develop a career and academic plan.

Course Organization

This course is centered on college success topics that are put into organized modules for you to learn from. You will read from the textbook and online readings, watch Ted Talks, review relevant websites, participate in discussions, take self-assessments, and complete thought provoking assignments. At the end of the course, you will complete a Student Education Plan.

Communication

Regular Instructor Contact

April works hard to be accessible. She dedicates as much or more time to this class compared to a traditional face-to-face class. She accesses the class website regularly and responds to email and the Canvas inbox typically within 48 hours. Should a situation arise when she cannot access Canvas or reply to email within that time frame, she will notify the class in an announcement, then will announce when she's returned. She sends weekly announcements and sends Canvas messages to students who fall behind or need support. April reads the discussion forum posts and participates when appropriate. To further offer support, general questions (analogous to raising a hand in class) are posted in the Discussions section in the "Q & A" forum.

Using the Canvas Inbox

The Canvas Inbox is best way to contact the instructor. Click on the "Inbox" link on the left dark grey bar to view your Canvas email. Click on the person icon in the "To:" address bar. Choose the course, student or teacher, and then the person that you would like to email. Click on this course, and for teacher choose my name, April KlingonSmith. Type a message in the message area and click send.

Academic Requirements

Journal Entries

The journal entries provide opportunities to dive deeper and apply the success strategies you learn about to enhance your results in college and in life. Responses must be at least 250 words. Journal directions and grading criteria are posted in Canvas under “Assignments.”

Discussion Forums

The discussions are a chance to self-reflect and share experiences with your classmates at the end of each module. You are asked to post an original discussion thread by Thursday and respond to 2 other classmate’s posts by Sunday. Original post should be minimally 200 words. Response to a classmate posts should be minimally 100 words. Extra credit points are available for responding to an additional classmate. The grading rubric is posted for each discussion in Canvas.

Student Education Plan (SEP)

An SEP is an individualized plan that provides a “master list” of the courses required to achieve your educational and career goals. The SEP can be done in-person/phone with a CR advisor or counselor or completed online on Web Advisor. I recommend that the SEP be done in person, if possible. Check Canvas for SEP details, grading criteria, and an alternate SEP list that counts towards fulfilling the SEP requirement.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

Points

There are 200 points available to earn in this course. You can access your current grade in the Canvas “Gradebook” at any point in the semester. Grades are based on the points that you earn, and will be assigned based on a traditional percentage scale. Grading rubrics are posted for each assignment in Canvas. All work is graded as it submitted with the exception of Discussions. Discussions are graded after the due date to allow ample time for students to post classmate or self-responses.

4 Discussion Forums	10 pts each	40
5 Journals	10 pts each	50
5 Study Plans	10 pts each	50
Student Education Plan	20 pts	20
Your Lifestyle & Personal Choices Paper	20 pts	20
Your Career & Academic Plan Presentation	20 pts	20
		200 pts

Grades can be calculated by dividing the number of points earned by 200 or by adding up what grades you received (or think you will get) and using the percentage scale below.

A = 180-200 pts. B = 160-178 pts. C = 140-158 pts. D = 120-138 pts. F = 11

Late Work

Late work is accepted for a point deduction until the last day of class.

Assistance

Getting Started in the Course

Before the course begins,

1. Get the textbook right away.
2. Log into Canvas.
3. Read the first announcement.
4. Acquaint yourself with Canvas. Review this for assistance: Canvas Getting Started
5. Write due dates on a calendar.
6. Make sure your CR email is working.
7. Take the CR online orientation.
8. Consider getting the Canvas app on your phone.
9. Get technical support, if you need help.

When the course begins,

1. Post to the “Student Introductions” Discussion 1 by the due date.
You will not be able to see classmate posts until you submit your introduction.
2. Reply to 2 student’s posts according to the directions and grading rubric.
3. Respond to 3 students instead of 2 and earn an extra credit point.
4. Begin working on the next assignment.

Getting Help

Most questions can be answered by looking closely in Canvas. If you can’t find your answer in Canvas, then the Canvas Inbox is the best method for contacting the instructor. Email works too, but Canvas Inbox is preferred. There is a “Q&A” discussion forum where you can ask (and answer) a question. You may also leave a message on the instructor’s cell phone or on office hours, Tuesdays 9-11. I will get back to you either electronically or by phone as soon as I can. When leaving a voice mail, please leave your name, message, phone number, and which class you are in.

Student Commitment

This three-unit class requires about 7+ hours per week of your time. You will regularly log in and post to the discussion forums, carefully read textbook chapters and complete the required/recommended preparation. You will view Ted Talks and various websites, write and submit assignments, and complete a Personal Leadership Plan. Class attendance, conscientiousness, attention to details, reading, writing, and study skills are critical for success.

College of the Redwoods Policies/Procedures

Withdrawing From This Course

Students may withdraw themselves and instructors (AP 5075) are allowed to withdraw students from class for non-participation or excessive absences through the 10th week of class. The instructor will drop students who do not have a passing grade on the 10th week of class. There are no exceptions. I highly recommend that you drop yourself before the census date or before the final drop date to avoid having a non-passing grade on your transcripts and on your GPA. If you choose to drop this course, use Web Advisor or Admissions & Records. Be sure to check with admissions if you are considering withdrawing after census so that you will possibly receive a refund.

Plagiarism

Do not copy lesson or lecture notes, information from the textbook, other student's work, or cut and paste from a website and claim it as your own. Your contributions in the discussion forum, the activities, assignments, and exams must be your own work. If you incorporate the work of others into your writing, you need to cite their work. Students that plagiarize information will at minimum will receive a failing grade on the plagiarized assignment, will be turned in to the dean, and will be at risk of failing the course.

Academic Honesty

In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam. Review the Student Code of Conduct scroll to AP 5500.

Special Accommodations

College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit and may need accommodations, contact Disabled Students Programs and Services.

Emergency Procedures

RAVE – College of the Redwoods has implemented an emergency alert system. In the event of an emergency at the college you can receive an alert through your personal email and/or phones at your home, office, and cell. Registration is necessary in order to receive emergency alerts. Please go here and use the "Register" button on the top right portion of the registration page to create an account. During the registration process you can elect to add additional information, such as office phone, home phone, cell phone, and personal email. Please use your CR email address as your primary Registration Email. Your CR email address ends with "redwoods.edu." Please contact Public Safety at 707-476-4112 or security@redwoods.edu if you have any questions.
