2. Demonstrate a variety of effective study methods: time management, memory, note taking, textbook reading, and test taking.
3. List and describe college policies and procedures including: student rights and responsibilities, scheduling courses, and developing a Student Educational Plan (SEP).
4. List and describe a variety of resources, services, and activities available to students.

Prerequisites/co-requisites/ recommended preparation

Advisory

ENGL150 - Precollegiate Reading and Writing

Students will be more likely to succeed with college-level reading and critical thinking skills.

Accessibility

Students will have access to online course materials that comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and College of the Redwoods policies. Students who discover access issues with this class should contact the instructor.

College of the Redwoods is also committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability-related services and accommodations, please contact your instructor or Disability Services and Programs for Students (DSPS). Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS based on their campus location:

- Eureka: 707-476-4280, student services building, 1st floor
- Del Norte: 707-465-2324, main building near library
- Klamath-Trinity: 530-625-4821 Ext 103

During COVID19, approved accommodations for distance education classes will be emailed to the instructor by DSPS. In the case of face to face instruction, please present your written accommodation request to your instructor at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. Last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments cannot usually be accommodated.

Support for online learners during COVID-19

In response to COVID-19, College of the Redwoods moved the majority of its courses online to protect health and safety. As the faculty and students adjust to this change, clear communication about student needs will help everyone be successful. Please let me know about any specific challenges or technology limitations that might affect your participation in class. I want every student to thrive.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

One of my goals for this course is to create a structure and general routine for our weekly assignments, so we generally know what to expect:

Our textbook is Becoming a Master Student by Dave Ellis, 16th edition ISBN: 978-1-337-09710-9

For each chapter, I will assign one Journal Entry AND one "Practice Critical Thinking" exercise.

In addition, I will give one discussion question/prompt each week (which may be an additional Journal or Critical Thinking exercise). You will be asked to post an answer AND reply to 2 of your fellow students' posts.

The initial discussion question will be due on a Tuesday, 11:59pm, along with a Journal or Critical Thinking assignment.

For Thursday, due at 11:59pm, a "Practice Critical Thinking" or Journal Exercise will be due, along with one reply to one fellow student's discussion post.

Each Sunday, by 11:59pm, one more reply to another student's discussion post is due.

Late work is marked down 1 point for each day past the due date.

There will be additional assignments, a Midterm, and a Final Exam. Assignment specifics, rubrics, and added videos/lectures will also be posted as we go along. My intent is to keep the material fresh and tailored to your needs/interests.

I do my best to reply to students' questions/messages/discussions promptly; and will grade work within 48 hours of the due date.

Course Grades will be based on:

Discussions: posts and responses to other students' posts	30%
Journal exercises	15%
Practicing Critical Thinking exercises	15%
Midterm Exam	10%
Final Exam	10%
SEP (Student Education Plan)	5%
Problem Paper	5%
Health Topic Paper/Presentation	5%
Interview	5%

Assignment descriptions will be given to students in class.

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Setting Your Preferred Name in Canvas

Students have the ability to have an alternate first name and pronouns to appear in Canvas. Contact Admissions & Records to request a change to your preferred first name and pronoun. Your Preferred Name will only be listed in Canvas. It does not change your legal name in our records. See the Student Information Update form.
