Course Description (catalog description as described in course outline):
The study of statistical methods as applied to descriptive statistics and inferential statistics. An emphasis on the meaning and use of statistical significance will be central to the course. Students will use frequency distributions, graphs, measures of relative standing, measures of central tendency, measures of variability, correlation, and linear regression to explore descriptive statistics. Students will use the laws of probability and statistical tests (t-tests, chi-square, ANOVA, and regression analysis) to make decisions via hypothesis testing and estimate parameters using confidence intervals.
Student Learning Outcomes (as described in course outline):
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Accurately communicate statistical ideas using correct statistical notation, graphs, and vocabulary. • Use descriptive and inferential statistics to solve real-world problems. • Demonstrate appropriate use of technology in making decisions based upon real-world data. • Read and interpret information that contains statistical analysis and be able to communicate these results. • Judge the validity of research reported in the mass media and peer reviewed journals.
Special accommodations: College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact Disabled Students Programs and Services. Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS.
Mathematics Department Policy Regarding "Faculty Withdrawal" of Students after Census Day:
A student who is absent from class for the amount of time equal to two weeks of classes, will be withdrawn from the course, unless there are extenuating circumstances that are communicated to the instructor in a timely manner. This "faculty withdrawal" can occur between Week 4 and Week 10 of the semester.
