Required Materials

Textbook title: Math in Society
Edition: 2.5
Author: David Lippman
ISBN: available free online.

Textbook title: A Clockwork Universe
Author: Edward Dolnick
ISBN: 978-0-06-171951

Other Required Materials

- Calculator: Texas Instruments TI-84 graphing calculator.
- A digital camera, smart phone or other device capable of taking photos that can be converted to PDF format.

Catalog Description

An introduction to mathematics for students not pursuing science, business, and math majors. Surveys selected topics with a focus on history, utility, and artistry to promote appreciation and critical understanding of the foundational importance of mathematics to contemporary society.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate critical thinking skills through analyzing mathematical ideas in the context of contemporary society.
2. Use mathematical skills and techniques when arguing a position on a contemporary issue.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

| Grade Categories and Weights | | Letter Grade Assignment |
|------------------------------|-----|-------------------------|
| Homework | 20% | A: 90 – 100% |
| Discussions | 30% | B: 80 – 89% |
| Activities | 30% | C: 70 – 79% |
| Final Project | 20% | D: 60 – 69% |
| | | F: Less than 60% |

Homework: Regular homework will be assigned and due dates will be clearly noted in Canvas. Your homework will be evaluated on accuracy, completeness and neatness.

Homework Format: You will complete the homework assignments using paper and pencil then photograph each page with a smart phone, digital camera, or other electronic device. Your homework assignments must be in .pdf file format. You are responsible for uploading these files, in the correct format into Canvas before the deadline.

File Format: Portable Document Format (PDF) is one of the most versatile and widely utilized file formats in use today. All files submitted for this course must be in pdf format and have a logical, descriptive file name that starts with your last name (example - OlsenHW1.pdf).

Activities: You will be assigned several activities during the course. You are welcome to collaborate with anyone you wish on these assignments, but the final writeup must be your own work.

Discussions: You are required to participate in all discussions during the semester. Please note that participation in these discussions is part of your grade for this course. Your score for this part of the grade will be based on the quality and frequency of your posts.

Quizzes: Quizzes will be administered via Canvas' "Quizzes" tool. These are open-book quizzes, but you should prepare as you would for a face-to-face class. You will have limited time for each quiz and will not have time to search and find answers in the lectures or textbook. The quiz will cover the material covered since the previous quiz. Each quiz will be posted to Canvas, and you may take the quiz anytime during the open period. Once you start the quiz though the clock starts, and you will have a fixed amount of time to complete the quiz. You are expected to follow the class code of conduct on quizzes (see below).

Final Project: You can think of the final project as the capstone of the course. The final project is in two parts, an essay and a presentation. You will have a great deal of flexibility in choosing a topic for your final project. It could be about a famous mathematician. It could also be about a mathematical concept or paradox. The main stipulation is that this project tie back to mathematics in some clearly articulated way.

Computer Skills

Success in online courses depends in part on adequate computer skills. Students must be able to navigate the course website, open and download files, use a word processor and convert files to portable document format (.pdf), take photos of written work and manage photographic file formats, and submit files to the Canvas course website. The only acceptable file format for all submitted work is PDF. It is your responsibility to meet the technological demands of the course. Technological support is available via multiple online sources, and I will assist you in finding the most appropriate source for help.

Computer/Technology Requirements

This is not a course that can be successfully completed using a phone or tablet. There is a great deal of writing required, and a computer with a keyboard is a necessity. Also, even though Canvas works with most internet browsers, my experience has been that Firefox is the most reliable browser to use with Canvas. You also need to have reliable access to the internet. I would recommend broadband services from cable, DSL, or satellite providers.

Students can obtain a free Office 365 license (includes Word, Excel, PowerPoint and more) with a valid CR email.

Student feedback policy

In a face-to-face course, students would be expected to come to each class during the semester. Similarly, you are expected to “come to class” in this course by logging into Canvas and participating in this course. While some online courses are self-paced, this one is not. Each week new assignments open, new discussions (some graded and some not graded) are assigned, and announcements are made. To be engaged, students must take the initiative to log in and participate.

The Canvas message tool is the way to stay in contact with me. Students who do well in this course message me regularly with questions about the reading, homework problems and video lectures. It is important to send detailed questions. The process of writing your question out in detail becomes part of the learning experience in this course and also helps me to focus my explanations.

Often when I write an elaborate explanation to a particular student, one that I believe would benefit the entire class, I will post it as an announcement. Any student may then post a follow up question or comment as a “reply” to the announcement.

Submitting Work

All work for this course must be submitted via Canvas. Many assignments in this course require file uploads which as explained in more detail below must be converted to PDF file format. Once converted to PDF format, these files are then uploaded into Canvas via the assignment’s portal. This is the only way in which required file uploads will be accepted. Work submitted as attachments to Canvas messages or email messages will not be opened or downloaded to my computer.

Hard Deadline

All work for this work must be submitted on or before December, 15. After this date all assignments in Canvas are permanently locked.

Contesting a Grade

Students have one week from the time an assignment has been graded to contest the grade with me. If for any reason you are not sure why you earned the grade you received, or if you unclear on the grading policies, please message me via the Canvas messaging system.

Drop/Withdrawal

Student-initiated withdrawal may occur through the second week of class with nothing recorded in the student transcripts and from week's 2-10 with a recorded W (withdrawal). Administrative procedure (AP) 5075 allows instructors to withdraw students from class for non-participation through the 10th week of class. Non-participation for may result in involuntary withdrawal. No course withdrawal is allowed after the 10th week of class.

Incomplete Grade

As a general rule, I do not give incomplete grades. This does not mean, however, that I will not consider such a grade. Only with extreme and unpredictable extenuating circumstances, happening at the very end of the semester will I consider an incomplete grade. College of the Redwoods has strict guidelines with regard to a grade of incomplete (see the catalog). Incompletes are not an option to repair a low grade earned throughout the semester. A student must have already demonstrated significant and successful course progression beyond the last date to drop the course to be considered for an incomplete.

Accessibility

College of the Redwoods is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability-related services and accommodations, please contact your instructor or Disability Services and Programs for Students (DSPS). Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS based on their campus location:

- Eureka: 707-476-4280, student services building, 1st floor
- Del Norte: 707-465-2324, main building near library
- Klamath-Trinity: 530-625-4821 Ext 103

If you are taking online classes DSPS will email approved accommodations for distance education classes to your instructor. In the case of face-to-face instruction, please present your written accommodation request to your instructor at least one week before the needed accommodation so that necessary arrangements can be made. Last minute arrangements or post-test adjustments usually cannot be accommodated.

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Setting Your Preferred Name in Canvas

Students have the ability to have an alternate first name and pronouns to appear in Canvas. Contact Admissions & Records to request a change to your preferred first name and pronoun. Your Preferred Name will only be listed in Canvas. This does not change your legal name in our records. See the Student Information Update form.

Canvas Information

If using Canvas, include navigation instructions, tech support information, what Canvas is used for, and your expectation for how regularly students should check Canvas for your class.
