Catalog Description

An approved CR and CSU General Education course designed primarily for non-science majors. This course is a study of selected topics from contemporary mathematics. Typical topics, which are chosen by the instructor, will be from areas including: inductive and deductive reasoning, mathematical modeling and analysis of linear and exponential functions, geometric symmetries, geometry of fractals, sequences and series, dynamics of population growth, statistics, mathematics of finance and management science, mathematics of methods of voting, fair division, and problem-solving techniques.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Identifying the contributions of mathematicians throughout history and describe how those contributions affect mathematical thinking.
2. Evaluate the validity of a math-based argument.
3. Relate mathematics to society by modeling real-world problems in fields such as social science, business, finance, art and science.

Prerequisites/co-requisites/ recommended preparation

None

Required Materials

Textbook: You do not need to purchase a textbook from the bookstore for this course. We will cover a wide range of topics over the course of the semester. All materials will be posted to our Canvas page.

Computing Devices: Regular access to a desktop/laptop personal computer with internet access is highly recommended. Further, either a scientific calculator or a scientific calculator app for a phone or tablet is highly recommended.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

Your grade is based on points earned from homework, exams, and attendance.

Homework (40%): Each week you will be assigned a homework assignment. Some weeks they will be online assignments done through MyOpenMath/Canvas. Other weeks they will be written assignments that must be turned in by hand. Online homework may be turned in late for no penalty, but any written assignments will have a 25% penalty for being turned in late.

Exams (50%): There will be three exams in the course. Each exam will be worth 15% of the course grade. These exams will take place at the completion of each of the three units in the class. One exam for Arithmetic and Algebra, one exam for Geometry and Trigonometry, and one for Descriptive Statistics. There are no make-up exams allowed.

Attendance (10%): Each day I will take attendance in class. If you attend 80% or more classes, you will get the points. If you attend less than you will receive no points.

Letter grades are assigned based on the following criteria:

A 100-90%, B 90-80%, C 70-60% , D 70-60%, F 60%-0%

Educational Accessibility & Support

College of the Redwoods is committed to providing reasonable accommodations for qualified students who could benefit from additional educational support and services. ## Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student’s status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor’s directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Setting Your Preferred Name in Canvas

Students have the ability to have an alternate first name and pronouns to appear in Canvas. Contact Admissions & Records to request a change to your preferred first name and pronoun.
