Course Description (catalog description as described in course outline):
This course addresses both the philosophic roots and the contemporary operation of American national, state, and local government. Specific topics include constitutional development, federal-state relations, and the rights and obligations of citizens under the federal and California constitutions.
Student Learning Outcomes (as described in course outline) :
Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Explain the history and philosophy of the Constitution, politics, and government in the US. 2. Identify the major provisions of the California and US Constitution. 3. Compare the three branches of California and US Government, and related political institutions. 4. Outline the relationship between the states and national government (ie. federalism). 5. Analyze contemporary issues facing California and the US system of government.
Accommodations: Everyone deserves a learning environment that maximizes their strengths, therefore, students with the appropriate paperwork from the office of Disabled Student Programs and Services (DSPS) should notify me of any accommodations required.
If you believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact DSPS. Through DSPS students can request alternative media. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made.
ESOL students may be allowed to utilize a bilingual dictionary on some parts of the exams-please see the instructor for more information.
Academic Honesty: Cheating, plagiarism, collusion, abuse of resource materials, computer misuse, fabrication or falsification, multiple submissions, complicity in academic misconduct, and/ or bearing false witness are expressly prohibited by the College of the Redwoods Student Code of Conduct (http://www.redwoods.edu/District/Board/New/Chapter5/Ap5500.pdf) and will NOT be tolerated in this class. Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will automatically fail that component of the course and may also, at the instructor's discretion, be assigned a failing grade in the course. All students caught cheating or plagiarizing, regardless of the nature or severity of the offense, will be referred to the Vice President of Student Services and may be subject to additional college-level sanctions, which, depending, on the nature of the offense, can include suspension or expulsion from the College.
College of the Redwoods is committed to equal opportunity in employment, admission to the college, and in the conduct of all of its programs and activities.

POLSC 10: US Government & Politics

Spring 2013 Course Syllabus

I advise you to bring your syllabus to each class session. The syllabus will orient you to the day's activities and allow you to fill in new assignments, due dates, and/or make changes to the course outline as they occur.

Professor: Ryan Emenaker -- ryan-emenaker@redwoods.edu -- 707-476-4306

Office Hours: FM 200E; M/W 11:40-1:05 & T/Th 11:40-105. Please think of me as a resource. I am happy to chat about anything going on in this class, politics, or whatever is on your mind. I am also available to help you by phone and e-mail, and I will attempt to make other arrangements if needed.

Course Overview: This course addresses both the philosophic roots and the contemporary operation of American national, state, and local government. Specific topics include constitutional development, federal-state relations, and the rights and obligations of citizens under the federal and California constitutions.

Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:

1. Explain the history and philosophy of the Constitution, politics, and government in the US.
2. Identify the major provisions of the California and US Constitution.
3. Compare the three branches of California and US Government, and related political institutions.
4. Outline the relationship between the states and national government (ie. federalism).
5. Analyze contemporary issues facing California and the US system of government.

Ideally, you would leave this class and be able to remember the particulars about U.S. government years from now. Realistically, you should be able to apply the fundamental principles of this course to political issues for years to come. Facts are simple to memorize, but they fade quickly. Thinking and analyzing stay with you forever. Even if years from now you can't remember great deal about how a bill becomes a law but can support your opinion in a political debate with friends or family, this course will have succeeded in empowering you.

Significant attention will be given to having students think about questions with no clear answer, especially the issues of how democratic is American politics and how much emphasis should be given to the competing values of security, liberty, and equality. Students are encouraged to raise questions at any time. The professor does not have all the answers; you should feel free to question and challenge me.

Text (required):

1) American Government: Power & Purpose (Brief 12th Edition) by Lowi et al. is a traditional textbook. Any version of the 12th edition will work for this course. The 11th edition is similar and may work, but the page numbering and examples will differ; you are responsible for the information in the 12th edition.

2) POLSC 10 Course Packet (MUST BE THIS YEAR'S COURSE PACKET) is a collection of readings I have compiled. Many students comment that their favorite readings come from the packet. You should bring the packet to every class; we will often get into deep discussions on these readings and you will need your highlighted text to join the discussion.

3) Additional readings and/or activities will be assigned through MyCR and/or handed out in class. The readings and handouts are intended to help broaden your understanding of classroom discussion.

4) You should keep up with national and local news. Most news sources are on the web. I will be giving an assignment early in the semester that helps you identify some of the better known news sources.

Instructor Expectations Students should be aware that a considerable amount of reading, web research, and other work will be required as preparation for each class. To receive a passing grade a minimum of 2 to 4 hours will be required to prepare for each session. Additional time will be needed to prepare for the Mid-Term, Final, and to complete homework and writing assignments.

At a minimum, students are expected to:

1. Prepare carefully before class. Do the assigned reading, complete any assignments, think about the material, and bring questions and comments.
2. Expect that most of the work will be interesting and stimulating; contribute to making it so.
3. Keep abreast of current events. This includes regularly reading at least one newspaper.
4. Show up on time. Do not make other appointments during class hours.

MyCR- Be certain that you know how to use MyCR and can check your MyCR e-mail. I will be communicating to the class by e-mail and through MyCR with some frequency; I will assume you check your MyCR e-mail at least every other day. MyCR will be used to, post assignments, PowerPoints and lecture notes, send out announcements, and make changes to the course outline. If you are not able to use MyCR, or are not receiving messages from me, do not wait to fix this problem.

Grading:	Class Participation & Homework = 200 points	Reading Responses = 200 points
	Quiz = 50 points
	In-Class Mid-Term Exam = 200 points	In-Class Final Exam = 200 points
	Take Home Mid-Term Essay = 100 points	Take Home Final Essay = 50 points
		Total Semester Points = 1,000

Grading Scale:

A	= 930 – 1000 pts	C+	= 750 – 799 pts
A-	= 900 – 929 pts	C	= 700 – 749 pts
B+	= 866 – 899 pts	D	= 600 – 699 pts
B	= 830– 865 pts	F	= 0 – 599 pts
B-	= 800 – 829 pts

An “incomplete” grade will not be given except under extraordinary circumstances.
A worksheet will be handed out to help you compute your class grade.

Assignments & Grading:

1. Class participation & Homework is 20% of your grade and vital for success in this class. I do not accept excuses for missed participation; you either participate or you don't. You can't participate if you're not in class. Participation in this course means taking an active role in class discussions, group-work, in-class written assignments, completing all assigned readings, and other assigned homework.

If you fail to attend class it is your responsibility to find out what you missed from one of your colleagues. If you miss a handout most are on posted on MyCR. For those that are not, you might ask a colleague if you may copy theirs. I encourage everyone to exchange contact information with at least two others for these purposes.

2. Reading Responses are written pieces to 10 of the required readings. Please do not attempt to summarize the entire chapter or article. Instead, pick a direct quote, theme, or idea from one of the assigned readings for that week then (1) write 1-2 paragraphs summarizing the author's intended meaning and (2) write 1-2 paragraphs describing your reactions to the quote or theme. I do not simply want to know what the authors said; I want to know what YOU think about what they said. A sample reading response is included in the course packet.

You must be responding to the current week's readings. You may only turn in one per week; absolutely no excuse--no matter how valid--will allow you to turn in more than one per week. Since you only need to turn in 10 for the entire semester you are already allowed to “miss” reading responses for 5 weeks of the semester. If you miss more than that--no matter the reason--then you do not deserve to receive full credit for this portion of the class. Extra credit will not be given for turning in more than 10.

These writings are designed to get you thinking about the readings we do throughout the semester, they reinforce classroom discussion and sharpen your analytical skills. Each response piece should be at least one typed page. Due at the start of class!!! No late or e-mailed response pieces will be accepted!!! You must have at least one turned in by Wednesday February 6th; however, you should feel free to turn one in before this.

3. Mid-Term Exam will be held during week #10 of the course (Monday March 25th). It will start promptly at the beginning of class. It may include true/false, multiple choice, identification, as well as short and long answer questions. Make-up exams are not allowed except under the most exceptional circumstances and are allowed at the discretion of the instructor. In such cases a student must: (1) contact the instructor immediately; (2) provide written documentation of a medical, legal, or similarly serious circumstance; and (3) schedule a time to take the exam within 72 hours of the original exam. The Mid-Term Study Guide will be handed out the week before the exam. Last semester's study review guide is included in the Course Packet; you may want to look at this throughout the semester to ensure you are learning the relevant material. There will be a Mid-Term review the class before the exam.

A take-home essay question will also be given during week #7. The take-home-essay is due at the start of class on Wednesday March 6th; no late essays will be accepted.

4. Final Exam, as per college policy, must be taken on the designated day and time for your class section, no exceptions, no make-up exams. We will do an in-class review for the Final during our final class meeting. The format will be substantially similar to the Mid-Term.

A take-home essay question will also be given out with the Final Exam Study Guide. The take home essay is due at the start of the Final exam; no late essays will be accepted.

Accommodations: Everyone deserves a learning environment that maximizes their strengths, therefore, students with the appropriate paperwork from the office of Disabled Student Programs and Services (DSPS) should notify me of any required accommodations.

If you believe you might benefit from disability related services, please see me or contact DSPS. Through DSPS students can request alternative media. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made.

ESOL students may be allowed to utilize a bilingual dictionary on some parts of the exams-please see the instructor for more information.

Classroom Etiquette: Everyone should come to class prepared to be actively involved (i.e. listening, taking notes, asking questions, providing comments, discussing readings, etc.). If you arrive late please enter as quietly as possible. No side-conversations, eating meals, sleeping, using cellular phones, etc. For further information please view College of the Redwoods Student Code of Conduct.

Academic Honesty: Cheating, plagiarism, collusion, abuse of resource materials, computer misuse, fabrication or falsification, multiple submissions, complicity in academic misconduct, and/ or bearing false witness are expressly prohibited by the College of the Redwoods Student Code of Conduct (<http://www.redwoods.edu/District/Board/New/Chapter5/Ap5500.pdf>) and will NOT be tolerated in this class. Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will automatically fail that component of the course and may also, at the instructor's discretion, be assigned a failing grade in the course. All students caught cheating or plagiarizing, regardless of the nature or severity of the offense, will be referred to the Vice President of Student Services and may be subject to additional college-level sanctions, which, depending, on the nature of the offense, can include suspension or expulsion from the College.
