Welcome to US Government & Politics, POLSC 10. The goal of this course is to impart a relevant understanding of how our complex government operates by describing the basic ideas, structure, and influences on our government and how politics work. This course addresses both philosophic roots and the contemporary operation of American national, state, and local governments. Specific topics include constitutional development, federal-state relations, and the rights and obligations of citizens under both the federal and the California constitutions. We also explore factors that influence our government: elections, political parties, the media, public opinion, and special interest groups. Students become familiar with policies, both domestic and foreign, and how they are made. This course analyzes and demonstrates what is meant by “politics”. We discuss news events and connect them with the foundations, institutions, and political systems of our government.

Grading:

1. Frequent Quizzes – 30% are based on the texts, lectures, discussions, activities, videos: everything that we cover in class. They are short essay, multiple-choice, true/false, identification or a mix of these. Double Quizzes (2X) count as two. There are no make-ups. Let me know in advance if you need to take a quiz early. Quizzes are given at the start of class. Late arrivals will miss the quiz. The two lowest scores (or two missed quizzes) are dropped at the end of the semester.

2. Exams – 50% are primarily essay tests. They may include questions that are similar to quiz items.
Midterm 25% The Midterm covers Chapters 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 9, 10 and 11 in the American Government text and sections of the California text. It is an essay exam, but also has some of the types of questions that are found on quizzes. Reserve Thursday, October 11.
Final Exam 25% The Final covers chapters 4, 7, 8, 12, and part of 13 in the American Government text, sections of the California text, and discussions. Its focus is post-midterm; its format is similar to the midterm. Be absolutely certain to reserve Thursday, December 13 at 1:00 for our final.

3. Papers – 20% Two papers are assigned and are expected to be submitted in class on or by the scheduled dates. Late submissions lose points. See instructions of each for details.
