Notice

*Chapter numbers do not always match-up to the ones listed in the class schedule above. It depends on which version of the book you have. You should go by the chapter heading or topic instead.

*Chapter readings should be done before the class meeting date. Reading the chapters beforehand is important in order to gain a better understanding of the lectures and discussions for that day/week. Several quizzes will be given throughout the semester without prior notice, in order to test for reading comprehension.

*This class schedule is subject to change at any time. I will notify the class of any changes and it is the responsibility of the student to update changes via asking another students or contacting the instructor.

Grading Standards

Chapter Quizzes (5 points each)

Several chapter quizzes will be given before the start of the class and without prior notice. Quizzes will cover the chapter readings for the day and will consist of multiple choice, True/False, and/or fill in the blanks. The quizzes are designed to test chapter readings comprehension and to ensure lively and enriching discussions in class.

No quizzes will be given after the class takes the quiz.

Class Projects (5-50 points each)

There will be several in-class and/or homework projects or papers worth 5-35 points each. These projects or papers will be exercises designed to stimulate the use of psychological theories into real life applications. If you are absent when a class project or paper is assigned, you must get the assignment from a fellow student or e-mail or call the instructor.

Exams (50-90 points each)

There will be four exams consisting of multiple choice, True or False and/or essay questions. The first two exams will be worth approximately 88 points each and the third exam will be worth approximately 54 points and the final will be worth 25 points. The exams will test your knowledge of the assigned readings, lectures, and videos. You must take the exam at or before the scheduled date. There will be no exceptions, except for medical (with a doctor's note) or legitimate personal reasons.

Grading Chart

A	100-90%
B	89-80%
C	79-65%
D	64-60%
F	Less Than 59.9%

*Grades may be adjusted to include +/-

*If you are unable to take a test or turn in a paper on the scheduled date, you will need to call or e-mail me beforehand in order to make arrangements for alternate solutions.

*No cheating: it will result in a failing grade and/or disciplinary action.
