COURSE DESCRIPTION:

A course that has a focus in applied psychology. The course surveys psychological theories and empirical research as applied to personal growth, personality development and adjustment. The topics covered include: personality development, self esteem, stress and coping, health, psychology of love, sex and sex roles, mental health diagnoses, work and group behavior. Students will learn to apply psychological theories and principles to their own lives. Students are asked to look at their own barriers to personal effectiveness in learning, work and interpersonal relationships.

COURSE OUTCOMES/OBJECTIVES:

1. Explain concepts in areas of psychological theory and research while utilizing appropriate terms to represent the biopsychosocial perspective.
2. Analyze psychological research and apply concepts to self and others in writing for life-long personal growth.
3. Critically analyze psychological information in the popular press.
4. Describe specific research methods and the general principles of research ethics for the study of human beings, including the safeguards and the peer-review process in science.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING: This course is a theme-oriented one that makes use of brief lectures and small-group work to explore topics in a personal manner. As such, students are expected to complete assigned readings for each topic prior to each class session, to write weekly reactions papers (based on reactions to readings and to their participation in class/group sessions), and to actively participate in small-group explorations. This course requires both a personal and academic involvement on the part of the student, since the course deals mainly with understanding oneself and others. Other specific requirements are listed below:

Active participation in class discussions

Prompt attendance at ALL the class sessions

Keeping up to date with all of the assigned readings

Midterm test

Take-home reactions papers

Completion of the self-reflective activities in each chapter of the book

Final examination

BASIS FOR GRADING: A student's grade for this course will be determined by evidence of the quality of learning as demonstrated by his or her performance in the following areas:

reactions papers (25points)

midterm test (25 points)

final examination (25 points)

class participation (attendance and in-class writing) (25 points)

Grading Scale:

100 - 90 = A 89 - 80 = B 79 - 70 = C

69 - 60 = D 59 - 0 = F

REACTION PAPERS: There are 5 reaction papers due, each of which should be two double-spaced typewritten pages. The approximate suggested length is between one to two typed double spaced pages. Each of these papers is worth 5 points maximum. To earn credit for a reaction paper it is expected that it will be turned in at the beginning of the class each week. You might want to write about your personal reactions to certain topics within a chapter. How do certain sections within a chapter have personal meaning to you? How can you apply a particular topic that is discussed to your own life? What are you learning about yourself from each chapter? What might you want to do about what you are learning about yourself? Some topics may be highly personal and you might not want to share your personal reactions to a given topic. If this is the case, you can then write a critique of the chapter. What are your thoughts about the ideas presented in a given chapter? Thus, your reactions papers can be a combination of your personal reactions to what you are learning about yourself and also a critique and discussion about a few key points of the chapter that most stand out for you.

Each of the 5 reaction papers covers two chapters. It may be best to focus on one chapter, or comment more briefly on two chapters.

Reaction paper #1 on Chapters 1+2

Reaction paper #2 on Chapters 3+4

Reaction paper #3 on Chapters 5+6

Chapters 7+8 included in midterm

Reaction paper #4 on Chapters 9+10

Reaction paper #5 on Chapters 11+12

Chapters 13+14 included on final

CLASS PARTICIPATION/ATTENDANCE: You are expected to be an active learner, which includes verbally participating in the class discussions and small-group discussions. You are also expected to bring questions for discussion to the class sessions and demonstrate that you are keeping up to date with your reading assignments for each of the chapters in the textbook. Participation is a MUST in this course. This class will involve some degree of self-exploration and interpersonal learning. The instructor will talk more fully about the guidelines for self-disclosure and the expectations at the first class meeting. Attendance at the full duration of class is expected at each class meeting, unless you have an emergency situation or are really ill. For me to credit you with an EXCUSED ABSENCE, you need to know that it is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to inform me of such cases immediately upon returning to class. Absences and tardiness will be a factor in determining your participation/attendance grade; excessive absences or tardiness might result in getting a full grade deducted (or in some cases even failing the course).
