Course Description: A course focusing on the scientific study of behavior and mental processes. The content of the course focuses on the exploration of major theories and concepts, methods, and research findings in psychology. Topics include biological foundations, perception, learning, cognition, emotion, motivation, development, personality, social psychology, psychological disorders and therapies, and applied psychology. This course is transferable to four-year colleges and is a prerequisite for most upper division psychology courses.

Student Learning Outcomes: 1. Explain concepts in areas of psychological theory and research while representing appropriate breadth and depth of knowledge within the context of historical trends in psychology. 2. Recognize and understand the impact of diversity on psychological research, theory and application, including (but not limited to): age, race, ethnicity, culture, gender, socio-economic status, disability, and sexual orientation. 3. Demonstrate critical thinking skills and information competence as applied to psychological topics. 4. Analyze how experience, culture, learning and biology affect behavior and cognitive processes.

Text: Exploring Psychology (2016, 10th Edition) by David Myers and C. Nathan DeWall, Worth publishers. Paperback ISBN-10: 1-4641-5407-4. The 9th edition is acceptable, except for citing pages to improve your test scores. Use the 10th edition to gain points after a test. A copy of the 10th edition is on two-hour reserve at the LRC.

Student Commitment: This three credit-hour class will require about nine hours per week of your time. You will have to regularly attend class, carefully read textbook chapters, submit thoughtful daily writing assignments, complete a research paper, and successfully demonstrate your learning in exams. Class attendance, conscientiousness, attention to details, reading, writing, and study skills are critical for success.

Exams (150 points): Each exam will consist of 75 multiple choice questions. After graded exams are returned, you can make corrections and improve your score ½ point for each missed item by identifying the correct answer and text page. Corrections are due one week following the exam's return. You must take the exam at or before its scheduled date for full credit. Late exams are allowed up to one week with a 15 point penalty.

Lecture Points (approx. 90 points at 3 points each class): Near the end of each class you will identify a topic from the lecture to respond and relate to your personal experience. Specifically, you will be asked to: Thoughtfully respond/react to the topic (1 point), relate/apply the topic to your own personal experience (1 point), write a question you have based on the day's topic (1 point), and write at least one-half page (100+ words). You must attend the full lecture to receive credit. Note: The lectures will be recorded and posted as audio files in Canvas. If you miss class, you can submit up to two late lecture points based on the class recordings.

Research Paper (100 points): This will be a short paper on any psychology topic of your choice including an outline (10 pts.), draft paper (60 pts.), and revised paper (30 pts.). Information is available at the modules link in Canvas. All research paper assignments will be submitted electronically using Canvas and Turnitin.com (rough draft only).

Final Exam (100 points): The final exam will consist of 75 multiple-choice items based on chapters 11-15 and 25 recycled questions from prior exams. There will not be an opportunity to correct missed items. You must take the exam at its scheduled date. Late exams are not allowed.

Please Note: There are no extra credit assignments.

Grade Distribution: A = 93% and above, A- = 90-92%, B+ = 88-89%, B = 83-87, B- = 80-82%, C+ = 78-79%, C = 65-77%, D = 60-64%, F = 59% and below
