Catalog Description Social psychology is the scientific study of how our thoughts, feelings, and behaviors are influenced by the actual, imagined, or implied presence of others. This course will explore the foundational aspects of the field including relevant research, theory, and practical application. This course will give students the opportunity to apply social psychological theory to actual classroom and life experiences that exemplify social influences on behavior.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

This course is designed to provide students with a learning experience to reach and meet the following learning outcomes,

1. Demonstrate the ability to identify and differentiate central processes of social cognitive and their roles in at least one of the following: the construction of self and identity, the experience of emotion, intimacy and attraction, group process, social influence, attitude formation and changes, pro-social and aggressive behaviors, and intergroup behaviors.

2. Analyze the impact of society on culture on human diversity, especially as it relates to gender, self and identity, ethnicity, socio-economic status, sexuality, world view, collective behavior and or values.

3. Demonstrate familiarity with at least one of the findings from research in social psychology and the ability to apply them to hypothetical and or real life situations found in a variety of contexts.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

Please see below:

Discussions

Each week will include a discussion essay and this is worth 10 points. Discussions will also include responses to other students worth a total of 20 points for 2 replies. Responses should be three very thoughtful paragraphs long.

The essays are to be 200 words long and the responses should be 100 words long.

The essays should be free of grammatical and spelling errors and provide a thoughtful analysis of the question posed or prompt. Citing specific examples is expected. You do not need to relate any material to yourself, but if you choose to do so, this is wonderful (see, Over Sharing above in "Communications"). Detailed rubrics are easily accessed by clicking on the gear icon and there you will find the point break-down.

Discussions are worth a total of 260 points

Quizzes

Most weeks will include a quiz and the points vary depending upon difficulty level. However, there will be no late quizzes accepted and they are 10 points each.

These are worth 130 points total

Research Assignments

Group Collaboration

Each student will be assigned a group to complete one written assignment. You will be assigned a focus group where you will generate one research paper analysis that will be provided within Assignments and in the Modules. Each group will be given a research paper to critique and through discussion will produce one essay (I will receive the same essay from each group member).

This is collaboration is worth 10 points

Final Research Paper

This assignment requires that each student complete one research paper on an area of their choice. Any topic within the field of psychology is acceptable so long as there is available research to include in the reference section. This requires some research on the library databases. The expectations, rubric and instructions will be provided to you in detail. This is an APA paper and may be the first research paper you have completed on your own. I have ample materials to support you and will give you very detailed instructions with sample student papers to guide you.

This paper is worth 100 points.

Midterm

The midterm is worth 100 points and will cover the topics from Chapters 1-9. The midterm will consist of essay questions that require you to demonstrate a thoughtful integration of concepts learned.

Final

The final will be an essay exam worth 100 points and will cover the second half of the semester material from the mid-term on.

The Final is worth 100 points.
