Course Description

A course in anger and the various forms of aggression in the work environment. This course addresses the differing types and definitions of forms of anger and how these are manifested in the workplace. Topics include looking at causes of anger and ways to deal with anger. Students will also explore methods for controlling and preventing workplace anger and violence.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. List a number of things that can be done to avoid or minimize problems of anger in the workplace.
2. Describe warning signs that might indicate employees who are at high risk for aggression and/or violence.
3. Create a plan for organizational management of anger in the workplace considering appropriate responses to anger in the workplace, prevention programs, and guidelines for reducing threats of violence.

Special Accommodations

College of the Redwoods complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Please present your written accommodation request at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. No last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments will be made. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability related services and may need accommodations, please see me or contact Disabled Students Programs and Services. Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS at 707-476-4280.

Academic Support

Academic support is available at Counseling and Advising and includes academic advising and educational planning, Academic Support Center for tutoring and proctored tests, and Extended Opportunity Programs & Services, for eligible students, with advising, assistance, tutoring, and more.

Academic Honesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases,
